

Atomic Engine Sub Dedicated By Truman

Sees Golden Future For Atomic Age

Groton, Conn., June 14—(AP)—President Truman coupled the dedication of atomic energy to a golden future today with an attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a salesman of "cut-rate, bargain counter" national security.

Speaking at the laying of the keel of the nation's first atomic powered submarine, Truman declared only Soviet Russia stands in the way of the development of atomic energy to provide power for businesses, farms and homes everywhere.

He disclosed that a full-sized, working atomic engine—a self-contained power plant able to run almost indefinitely without refueling—is nearly complete. He described the development as putting the world on "the threshold of a new age."

Then, obviously referring to Eisenhower, now an active candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, the president asserted:

"This is a political year and politics do funny things to people who are seeking office. Now the air is filled with promises to strengthen national security and to cut taxes all at the same time.

Refers Indirectly To Ike

"I even heard the other day that somebody was talking about a 40 billion dollar tax cut. That would leave us with only about half enough money to support our armed forces even if we didn't spend a penny for anything else.

Although Truman didn't name Eisenhower directly, he clearly referred to a proposal which New York GOP delegates said Eisenhower advanced to them. Some said Eisenhower favored cutting the federal budget by 40 billion within two or three years. Others said he didn't say how long it would take.

Said Truman: "The difficulty is that the American people are getting all kinds of foolish advice from persons who ought to know better."

Defense Costs Money

He said defense costs money and reminded the crowd estimated at 10,000 that he recently asked an additional three billion for expanding atomic energy work.

Truman spoke from an improvised platform in the south yard of the electric boat division of the General Dynamics Corporation just before flashing a signal to crane men who lifted steel plates for the new submarine into place.

The president said an atomic engine of the type which will power the new craft, the Nautilus, has been built on dry land at Arco, Idaho, by the Navy and Atomic Energy Commission.

He said when this engine on dry land has been completed, "it will be perfectly possible to hitch it up to turn out electricity like any other dry land power plant."

Wiley Says Probe To Start In Alien Property Office

Washington, June 14—(AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) disclosed today a pledge from Attorney General McGranery to cooperate with a Senate committee launching a $100,000 probe of the alien property office.

Wiley made public an exchange of correspondence with McGranery and reports that the cabinet member had dropped Assistant Attorney General Harold I. Baynton, who heads the Justice department's alien property office.

Wiley, who initiated the Senate investigation of the government's handling of former enemy-controlled corporations and other assets seized during World War II, complained the Justice department had stalled for months on his requests for information.

In a June 4 letter to McGranery he said past tactics of the department and the alien property office might be characterized as "stall 'em, smear 'em, refuse 'em" and asked if the new attorney general intended to reverse these practices.

He said he sought information on reports of excessively high attorneys' fees, political favoritism and "that money had exchanged hands underneath the table."

McGranery, who recently succeeded J. Howard McGrath in the cabinet post, wrote Wiley in reply:

"Let me assure you that there will be no tactics described by you as 'stall 'em, smear 'em, refuse 'em' but on the contrary I give you my personal assurance that I am in thorough wholehearted accord with the aims and objectives of your committee."

ALABAMA HEAT WAVE

Birmingham, Ala., June 14—(AP)—A blistering heat wave brought temperatures up to 101 degrees to Alabama yesterday and no relief was in sight.

Allies Kill, Wound 800 Chinese Reds In 4 Day Battle

Seoul, Korea, Sunday, June 15—(AP)—Allied troops have killed or wounded at least 800 Chinese Reds in the four-day old battle for a cluster of hills on Korea's western front, the U. S. Eighth Army said today.

A staff officer said the figures are incomplete. They include 477 counted and estimated killed and 338 estimated wounded.

Fighting for the high ground slackened off Sunday after one of the heaviest Communist artillery barrages since the Korean war started.

The staff officer said the Reds hurled 11,736 rounds of artillery and mortar fire along the 155-mile front in the 24-hour period ending at 6 p.m. Saturday.

"This is probably the highest of the war for the Communists," he said, "and certainly the highest" since the twilight war began last November.

The tempo stepped-up in the air war, too. Waves of Allied fighter bombers pounded on a hidden Red airfield late Saturday and left the runway packed with bomb craters. The field is less than 100 miles north of the front lines, and close enough to threaten Allied infantrymen.

Maj. James Crutchfield of Graceville, Fla., described the airbase he helped destroy as "the hottest target in North Korea."

More than 150 jets and propeller-driven fighter bombers swarmed over the camouflaged field, which could serve as a base for Communist fighters in an all-out Red offensive.

The field is not a new one. It has been wrecked several times. But the air force said Communist repair crews have been working desperately to put back in shape.

Earlier Saturday two regiments of the 45th (Oklahoma) division hurried back a Chinese battalion trying to cut off newly won hill positions near Chonwon on the western front, some 50 miles north of Seoul.

Field Marshal Lord Alexander, Great Britain's defense minister, visited the Commonwealth division at the front Saturday and told newsmen the Communists would suffer terrible losses if they launch a new all-out offensive.

The defense minister and Selwyn Lloyd, number two foreign office official, were sent to the Far East by Prime Minister Winston Churchill to check up on progress of the war and the stalled armistice negotiations.

Jews, Moslems Riot In Tunis Kill Jewish Boy

Tunis, Tunisia, June 14—(AP)—Rioting between Moslems and Jews erupted in Tunis today. This came amid tension over reports that an attempt had been made to poison members of the ruling Bey's family, but the incidents appeared to have no connection.

An 18-year-old Jewish boy was killed by a bullet in the fighting. There was no indication who fired the shot.

Police fired into the air to break up violent fighting started when some 100 Moslems invaded the Jewish quarter of Hafsa, smashing shops, pillaging and entering Jewish homes. Two groups of Arabs did the raiding.

Jewish leaders sent appeals to the World Jewish Congress tonight and there were reports the Jews might set up a formal system of self-defense. About 35,000 Jews live in this largely Moslem city of 365,000.

During the day the Arab quarter of Tunis apparently closed up tight to show the anger of Tunisians over the reported attempt to poison a son and daughter of their venerable ruler, 70-year-old Sidi Mohammed Al Amin.

The office of the French resident general, Jean De Hauteclocque, investigated the alleged poison plot. A suspect was reported arrested, but this lacked official confirmation.

Prince Chadley, son and political secretary of the Bey, nominal sovereign of this French protectorate, said he discovered a white powder, in soup being prepared for last night's dinner. The powder was examined and called a deadly mixture.

DANVILLE TO BOIL WATER

Danville, Ill., June 14—(AP)—The basement of the water plant serving the Danville area was flooded today and residents were told to boil drinking water as a safeguard.

The plant became flooded when it was necessary to open all four gates on the Lake Vermilion dam. The area was drenched with nearly 3 inches of rain during the last two days and the drainage water raised the lake to the top of the dam.

Workers were sandbagging the water station, located below the dam, tonight in an effort to stop further flooding. Fifteen families living along the lake's drainage stream were evacuated from their homes because of the high water.

3 McGranery Assistants Resign

Washington, June 14—(AP)—Attorney General James P. McGranery shook up top Echelons of the justice department today, announcing the resignations of three of his six assistant attorneys general.

All presidential appointees, they are H. Graham Morrison, in charge of the anti-trust division; Harold I. Baynton, head of the Alien property office; and William A. Hunderhill, chief of the lands division.

A Senate committee has announced plans to investigate the Alien property division. A House group already has held hearings involving the anti-trust department.

McGranery refused to comment on the resignations when he announced them at a hastily-called news conference in Philadelphia. Rumors and reports that some such action was pending circulated in Washington earlier in the day.

The new attorney general, in office less than three weeks, is successor to J. Howard McGrath, who was fired after ousting Newbold Morris as government cleanup chief.

When McGranery took office he automatically received the resignations of all top men in the Justice department.

The move is customary, the idea being to give the new boss a free hand in making whatever changes he might desire by merely accepting resignations.

In his Philadelphia news conference today, McGranery said he did not know why the three assistants wanted to quit "except that they said they wanted to return to the private practice of law."

But Underhill, first to be reached for comment, made it clear that the new attorney general had acted on his own. He said:

"It is perfectly all right with me. I think the attorney general should pick his own assistants."

Find No Trace Of Missing Plane Or Couple

Des Moines, June 1—(AP)—Civil air patrol and air force planes searching for a Danville, Ill., couple missing on a flight from Albert Lea, Minn., to Danville reported finding no trace of the couple's light plane up to late afternoon.

The Danville couple, Nagle C. Humble, who was flying a yellow Fairchild airplane, and his wife, Helen, were last heard from when they took off Thursday from Albert Lea for the 400-mile flight to Danville.

Capt. Scott Johnson of the fourth air rescue squadron from Lowry Air Force base, Denver, in Des Moines to direct the air search, said about 30 Iowa CAP planes and 17 from the Minnesota CAP were participating in the search.

The Minnesota fliers have been working since early this morning, but heavy walls of thunderstorms in northeast Iowa prevented the Iowa planes A C 82 flying boxcar and an SA16, a new type of amphibious rescue plane, from flying until shortly before noon.

Capt. Scott said the fliers had "pretty thoroughly covered" a 25-mile corridor from Albert Lea to Dubuque along the route the Humbles were believed to have followed. He said results so far had been "negative."

He said the search would go on until dark.

The Humbles had flown to Foreman, N.D., Monday for the funeral of Mrs. Humble's mother, Mrs. Anna Bartle. They were returning to Danville when they were reported missing.

Young Demos Like Stevenson, Douglas For President

Quincy, Ill., June 14—(AP)—State Rep. Alan Dixon, 24, of Belleville, today was elected president of the young Democrats of Illinois.

Dixon was the unanimous choice of delegates attending a two-day convention here.

Clyde Choate of Anna also was nominated for the presidency but quit the race before the first ballot was taken.

Other officers elected were: Robert Marks of Elmhurst, 1st vice president; Don Heckenkamp of Quincy, 2nd vice president; Caroline Miller of Danville, treasurer; and Allen Kolodzik of Chicago, secretary.

At the closing session today, delegates went on record favoring Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson or Sen. Paul Douglas for the Democratic presidential nomination. They pledged support, however, the party's choice in the fall election.

The convention also approved a resolution to lower the voting age to 18.

CIO Says 'Dixiegops' Kicked Labor In Face

Washington, June 14—(AP)—The CIO today accused Senate "Dixiegops"—Republicans and Southern Democrats—of kicking labor in the face and said "American labor will not soon forget."

In passing the Byrd amendment, "the Senate's reactionary Republican-Dixiecrat coalition went out of its way to kick American labor in the face."

The Byrd amendment, offered by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), requested President Truman to end the crippling nationwide steel strike, now in its 13th day with an 80-day no-strike court order under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The Senate voted, 49 to 30, to tack the amendment to a bill extending wage, price and rent controls until next spring. The house is expected to follow the Senate's lead.

Truman had asked Congress for power to seize the steel industry instead of using the Taft-Hartley law but was rebuffed.

The CIO News, official publication for the labor organization, said the senate "failed to meet a challenge for constructive action."

It recalled the presidential appeals to Congress for specific seizure laws, then said: "And the Dixiegops have come up with only one answer: Sock-em hard with Taft-Hartley, regardless of the rights and wrongs."

The Senate's action, the CIO News said, "virtually ruled out the possibilities of enlisting voluntary cooperation by labor in future disputes affecting basic industries."

But the editorial avoided, as did CIO President Philip Murray in Pittsburgh yesterday, any hint as to what the striking CIO Steelworkers union might do if Truman complies with the Senate's request.

Some top government officials here believe the president probably will comply, but not until the House acts.

The strike has wiped out 88 per cent of the nation's normal steel production. Nearly 31 million tons of the precious defense metal already have been lost. Production had been running just under 300,000 tons a day, 106 million tons a year.

Move Of Diplomats May Be Political Device In Cold War

Washington, June 14—(AP)—A reshuffle of Soviet diplomats involving key world capitals alerted the United States and other western governments today for a possible major Russian political move in the cold war.

Most authorities centered their attention on the possibility of a supreme new effort by Moscow to split apart Britain and the U. S. and thereby destroy the western unity which is the basis for defense against expanding Soviet power.

Belief that this may be the Soviet intention was shown in speculation here and abroad on two developments: (a) a kind of neutralism is developing in a powerful faction of the British Labor party led by Aneurin Bevan, and (b) the most significant change in the new Russian assignments is the naming of Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as ambassador to London.

Gromyko is described as the No. 3 man in the upper ranks of the Red leaders who control Soviet foreign policy. Above him have been former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, now a member of the politburo and Deputy Prime Minister, and the present foreign minister, Andrei Vishinskiy.

Experts on Russian affairs, however, said today that some authorities regard Gromyko as smarter and perhaps more powerful even than Vishinskiy. In any case there appeared to be agreement on the conclusion that the men in the Kremlin have picked one of their most trusted and influential career diplomats for the London assignment.

And his selection comes at a time when there are a number of apparent strain and stresses developing in the relations of the principal western powers.

While speculating along this line, U. S. experts said that as usual the Soviets had given no clear indication of what they may be planning. They said any conclusions drawn now on the basis of assignment of new envoys to London, Washington, the German Communist government at Berlin, and the Red China capital of Peking can at best be only tentative and subject to revision.

As an alternative to the theory of an immediate attack on western unity, which has long been regarded by western statesmen as a major aim of Soviet diplomacy, they mentioned the possibility that the Kremlin may be planning to seek a relaxation in world tensions and to that end may desire to put new faces on its diplomacy in each of the capitals concerned.

He said a hole in the windshield looked like it was caused by a bullet, but no metal scrapings were found on the glass.

Reds Threaten Workers Giving Aid To House UnAmerican Activities

Champaign, Ill., June 14—(AP)—Rep. Veale (R-Ill.) declared today that Communists are threatening workers in the Chicago area to stop them from aiding an inquiry of the House UnAmerican Activities committee.

He said the committee, after more than a year of preliminary investigation, plans to open hearings in the late summer or early fall on the extent of Communist infiltration of defense industries in the Chicago area.

In an address prepared for the dedication here of a new American Legion clubhouse, Veale said: "The Communists are so desperate to maintain a hold on certain labor unions in the Chicago area that they are openly attempting to intimidate, radio and machine workers who desire to assist the committee in its coming investigation."

"The Communists have recently set up the Chicago Trade Union Defense committee to render financial and legal assistance to members of the Communist party who may be subpoenaed during the committee's hearings."

"Recently this organization held a rally at which a steward of local 347, United Packinghouse Workers, declared: 'The day they subpoena our leaders, not an animal will be slaughtered in the yards.'"

"Investigators for the committee who have been working in this area have reported that many individuals contacted by them have expressed sincere and genuine fear for their own lives and the lives of their families if they should cooperate with and testify before the committee."

Veale declared unions "crying the loudest and longest" over the forthcoming hearings were "labor organizations such as the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, The Farm Equipment Workers, The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and other unions which even the CIO could no longer tolerate."

Others, he said, were the Packinghouse Workers and United Automobile Workers.

"The cry of the Communist party and its members in labor organizations against investigations by the committee... is also caused by the fact that the industrial strength of the Communist party in Chicago is exceeded in size and importance only by New York," Veale said.

He asserted the Communist party has "always considered Chicago its most important center of operation." Veale added:

Ike Takes An Honest Approach To Issues

Blames CIO For Shortage Of War Steel

Pittsburgh, June 14—(AP)—President Benjamin F. Fairless of U. S. Steel corp. said today that striking CIO steelworkers are responsible for any shortage of military steel production.

Fairless issued the statement some 24 hours after Philip Murray, boss of the steelworkers told a joint strategy session of the USW executive board and wage policy committee that industry doesn't have the expansion capacity to produce steel needed for defense requirements.

Said Fairless: "There has not been one instance in which we have failed to produce what the armed forces have asked us to produce. That will continue to be our policy."

"Mr. Murray knows full well that if there is any shortage of steel for defense it is caused solely by the strike which he and his associates must bear full responsibility."

Murray made his charge after a day-long session with his policy makers which resulted in a statement that 650,000 steelworkers will continue to remain idle "until our case is won."

Murray charged the 13-day old steel strike has been a political football and accused industry about lying about negotiations.

Phantom Reported, Say 3 Cars Shot At On Highway

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—Three more mysterious shootings by a phantom highway gunman were reported today. The gunman really was a phantom this time. No descriptions of an automobile were obtained.

About a score of motorists have reported they were shot at or stroked recently as they drove along highways in various parts of the state. Two persons have been hurt slightly. Several have reported the shots apparently came from a blue auto mobile speeding past. Hence, the mysterious assailant, if any, has been described as the Blue Phantom.

The last shootings were reported on Route 66, between Gardner and Dwight; on Route 20, between Rockford and Belvidere; and on Route 22, between Streator and Ottawa.

State police at Joliet said Henry C. Taitor of Naperville told them he was fired upon by a passing motorist early today on Route 66. But he said he thought his assailant was firing blank cartridges.

E. J. Bosley of Ransom, a LaSalle county conservation officer, told Streator police he was driving between Streator and Ottawa on Rt. 23 today when he heard a sound similar to a pistol shot. His shoulder was showered with glass. There was a hole in his left front window which resembled a bullet hole.

Bosley told police a truck had passed him about that time. The truck was found, but the driver was exonerated. Bosley said he vaguely recalled some automobiles also had passed him about that time, but he could give no description.

James M. Horsley, 22, of Chicago, told the Boone county sheriff's office at Belvidere the windshield of his automobile was pierced early today by a mysterious missile while he was driving on Route 20 between Belvidere and Rockford. Horsley heard no shot.

The auto was brought to Chicago where tests were made by the Chicago crime laboratory to determine whether Horsley's windshield was pierced by a bullet. Sgt. John Ascher, head of the laboratory, said tests, completed this afternoon, failed to reveal evidence of a bullet.

He said a hole in the windshield looked like it was caused by a bullet, but no metal scrapings were found on the glass.

Electric Power Off In Chicago's Northside, 5 Hours

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—The major portion of Chicago's north side was without electrical power for nearly five hours tonight when transformers in a power station burned out.

Street cars, trolley buses and elevators stopped running. Lights went out in homes and offices. Traffic signals were rendered useless. Movie-goers viewed darkened screens and housewives with electric stoves were forced to serve cold food.

A spokesman for the Commonwealth Edison company said the failure occurred when oil exploded in two of the company's nine electrical transformers at 3400 N. California ave.

Fire Chief James Lahey said a short circuit or defective wiring apparently set off the blaze. Company officials estimated damage at nearly $200,000.

Within view of the generating station, thrill riders at Riverview park, a huge amusement center, were stranded temporarily atop lofty structures.

Emergency measures were taken at several hospitals in the affected area when operating rooms were plunged into darkness.

The Chicago Transit authority said street car and elevated service was resumed after an hour and 10-minute interruption.

Noted Psychiatrist To Be 'Dollar A Year' Consultant

Springfield, Ill., June 14—(AP)—Dr. Karl Menninger, an internationally known mental health authority, today became a "dollar-a-year" consultant to the Illinois Department of Public Welfare.

He is director of the Menninger School of Psychiatry at Topeka, Kan.

Koehler, department director, said Menninger would be available to him and the department's staff for consultation. In addition, when time permits, Menninger will speak at public meetings on the state's mental health services and their relation to the community.

PATIENT INJURED

East Moline, Ill., June 14—(AP)—Two women attendants were injured severely Friday night when they were attacked by a male patient with a hammer at the East Moline state hospital.

Mrs. Jeanette Hall suffered a skull fracture and cuts. Mrs. Pearl Stafford received an injury to her neck, vertebrae, ankle injuries and cuts.

HIGHLIGHTS OF IKE'S DETROIT ADDRESS

Detroit, June 14—(AP)—Here are highlights of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's address in Detroit's Olympia stadium tonight:

"Now I have no political debts. xxx. I have heard of all kinds of deals, all of us have. They have borne many adjectives in this country over the past 20 years. I am strictly a 'no deal' man."

"Moreover when I say 'let's clean out corruption,' that pertains to all mechanisms of our political processes as well as the government itself. It applies to political parties. It applies to primaries. And it applies in my native state of Texas."

"xxx And there are many ways open to the government at all levels to clean it out, and we can do it, and we can do so without besmirching the reputation of any innocent man."

"Now the first (question) is the easiest of all to answer. They say to me, 'General, how do you think you are doing with the delegates?'"

"Now this is one question that I can not answer at all, because I have never asked them. I have never asked a single person to place me first in his preference list and I never shall."

"And then I have been asked xxx 'General, if the Republicans nominate you, will you make a fighting campaign?'"

"xxx For 40 years it has been my business to learn the trade of fighting, and I would know of no reason why, when I got into the most magnificent battle of my life, that I should suddenly ease up."

"I believe that a change in administration in our federal government is absolutely mandatory."

"I have been asked about the steel strike."

"xxx It is absolutely certain we have had inept leadership in the attempt to solve this problem. First there was a refusal to use the law that is on the statute books. Next there was a seizure of plants, which the highest court of the land had to find unconstitutional xxx."

To Use Own Words

While his aides were confident the presidential candidate will step back in the political harness by preparing advance texts of future pre-convention speeches, they had sharp notice that Eisenhower intends to say his say in his own words.

It was an alternately smiling and solemn general turned civilian—perhaps a little bewildered by all the fuss being made over him—who confessed to being only "a simple fellow" who finds it quite a chore to stand up before a microphone and read a speech.

But under a broiling midday sun in Detroit's famed Cadillac Square the general proved himself no amateur at calling up the words when he is on his own. In the best Flag Day tradition, he preached a sermon to Americans on Americanism.

Repeats Oath to Flag

The crowd possibly was reduced in size by the lure of television in shady nooks where tinkling glasses abounded. But the police estimated 40,000 who stood by loved it, especially when the general dramatically asked spectators to join him in repeating the oath to the flag.

Almost prophetically, the big bell in the city hall tolled out the hour of noon, drowning out his words as Eisenhower declared that if Americans avoid dissent at home they need not fear Communist threats.

It was quite a feat even for a five-star general of the armies and something a Kansas small town boy hardly would have dared to dream about.

It was a big day, too, for Arthur Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman, who engineered the invitation for the general to appear here. But Summerfield still wasn't saying whether he intends to lead a reputed majority of Michigan's vital 46-vote delegation into the Eisenhower camp or take them into the arms of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who also wants the nomination.

It is the first Russian charge of a frontier violation by allied warplanes since an east-west crisis boiled up in April with a Soviet fighter attack on a Berlin-bound French airliner. Two occupants of the French plane were seriously wounded.

East Germany's frontier with West Germany is now marked by a security belt three miles wide, extending from the Baltic Sea to Czechoslovakia.

A GROWING CITY

At a meeting in the City Hall on June 10 eleven civic groups of the city of Jacksonville gathered together with two representatives from the City Council to consider ways and means of solving the city's growing garbage disposal problem. Following a report on the conditions prevailing at the city dump and general discussion of possible solutions, the representatives set up a number of committees to study various phases of the matter and bring in a report at a meeting to be held early in July.

The problem of adequate garbage disposal has been a growing one here for a number of years. The penalty of growth from a small rural town into an urban community is that many matters once left to the individual householder to take care of, in the interests of public health and welfare must be taken over by the community itself.

It has been a long time since the problem of fighting fires, protecting the lives and property of citizens, and the provision of a community water supply and sewage disposal system were assumed by the city. The police force, the fire department, the water works and the disposal plants have been around so long that we are inclined to forget that they, too, were instituted as solutions to problems of community living.

We believe in individualism. We are for free enterprise. We think the movement toward socialism in this country through the various recent Deals has gone too far. But we also think that certain problems do belong to the city, especially when the health and welfare of the entire community is at stake and the time honored methods are no longer feasible. We favor a workable citywide solution to this problem.

At the same time we should not rush headlong into the matter without studying it carefully. If we aren't careful we may wind up with an expensive garbage disposal system which doesn't do the job any more efficiently than the one we have now. For that reason we wish to commend the decision of the June 10 meeting to make haste slowly. It isn't as simple as it sounds. It is a matter which will require careful thought and attention. We hope the report which will be brought in early next month will be fully considered by the entire community before action is taken.

ASSAULT ON EVEREST

Now at a base camp for acclimatization, at an altitude of 18,000 feet, members of the Swiss Mount Everest expedition have several notable advantages in attempting to reach the summit of the world's highest mountain.

Members of the team, all of whom are from Geneva, have made ascents in the Alps together and are regarded as the strongest group of Swiss which could have been selected for the assault on hitherto unconquered Everest. The expedition has the benefit of the newest camping and climbing equipment, including oxygen masks for the upper danger zone, tents of isothermic double canvas lined with swansdown, sleeping bags with pneumatic mattresses and insulated clothing.

The time available for an ascent is short. Spring is too cold, in summer rain deposits vast quantities of snow upon the mountain and makes it dangerous. Autumn is again too cold. Therefore, the ascent must be made at the end of spring, before it rains.

The Swiss plan to send up a team of six climbers for the final assault, hoping that the two strongest will reach the summit. In all previous assaults, a team of two made the final attempt. If one weakened, the attempt failed.

But foolhardiness will not be in order. A farewell telegram from M. Hasler of the Swiss Federation for Alpine Research read: "Make a brave try. But be brave, too, even in retreat. Some home safely—all of you!"

A RAISE FOR THE DUKE

Around Buckingham Palace at the first of the month things apparently aren't much different than they were around the house in Stoke-on-Trent, Deptford Riding, Arapahoe or Walla Walla. Eventually the high cost of living hits home impartially, and with the royal family the story is no different. The lady of the house invariably thinks her husband is being short changed.

A slight difference is discernible, of course, when the lady of the house happens to be Elizabeth II of Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the British Dominions Beyond the Seas. She has taken matters into her own hands. The boss, I. e. parliament, has been advised that her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, has been struggling along on an unprincipled $28,000 a year for too long.

As any wife knows, that's practically nothing with prices where they are. Why, Queen Victoria's consort got 30,000 pounds a year, and that was back in the days when a pound was five dollars.

For the royal family no payroll deductions shrink the weekly envelope. It's almost as though the entire $1,500,000 or whatever the royal prerequisites come to, was tax free expense account.

IVAN IVANOVICH GOES TO THE OLYMPICS

BY HAL BOYLE
 New York—(AP)—Ivan Ivanovich is going to the Olympics.

And the entire sports world is buzzing with gossip about what will happen to the Russian teams at Helsinki next month.

The decision to let Soviet athletes compete in the International games puts the politburo to its supreme test. The communist leaders have held that their ideology has given Russia the world's greatest science, art, and literature. Now they are going to show that ideology also builds better bodies.

Is a Communist muscle necessarily better than a liberty-loving? Soviet athletes take their training seriously—a liberty-loving. A report is that they keep in shape by reading Karl Marx all morning, and then taper off in the afternoon by wrestling live bears, doing full knee bends with a copy of Before going to bed they relax by the life of Stalin on each shoulder.

Soviet leaders must be already a bit worried about the possible effect contact with the western world will

Hollywood—(NEA)—Behind the Screen: Marilyn Monroe's exclusive confession to me a month ago that her mother is alive, and that she's helping with her support, left the publishers of Redbook magazine red-faced over a big "orphan's life" story about her in their June issue. Now it can be told that Marilyn sent her "deepest apology" to editor Wade Nichols in a letter which read in part:

"I frankly did not feel wrong in withholding from you the fact that my mother is still alive, since we have never known each other intimately and have never enjoyed the normal relationship of mother and daughter."

"Look, no matter what Rita and Glenn do it's censorable. The sparks fly when they get together and we just can't have too many sparks."

TELEVISION WARY

Bing Crosby's beaming over his in-the-flesh TV debut with Bob Hope on an eight-hour, coast-to-coast television June 21 to raise funds for the U. S. Olympic team. But he's still wary of video as a regular medium for himself next fall.

He remarked to me on the set of "The Road to Bali": "I don't know what to do about TV. I watch new shows start and in a couple of weeks they're laying eggs. Sid Caesar is the only entertainer who's consistently good, but I don't know how he keeps it up."

It's been told that Bob Crosby will make a quick appearance with brother Bing in the latest "Road" movie but her's the gag: Bing and Dottie Lamour are walking through the jungle when Bob jumps out from behind a tree in a hunter's outfit and carrying a big-game rifle.

"Now?" he asks Bing.

"Now," says Bing.

Bob points the gun into the air, fires and immediately disappears into the jungle. Bing explains to wide-eyed Dottie:

"I always promised him a shot in one of my pictures!"

If Greta Garbo doesn't change her mind, she'll never again appear on the screen. The famous Swede told Director George Cukor in London that she would be happy to make her comeback in the starring role of "My Cousin Rachel." Cukor wired 20th Century-Fox studio to start drawing up the contract. Next day however, Garbo backed out with:

"I'm sorry. I can't go through with it. I don't have the courage to ever make another movie."

SINGING GENERAL LOSES OUT
 Rudy Vallee, who wanted to play General Rommel in "The Desert Fox," is disappointed again. He had his heart set on the role of John Phillip Sousa, which went to Clifton Webb, in "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Hollywood's ballet cycle is due for a setback. Francis the Mule, Donald O'Connor and Jimmy Durante went to dance in a big ballet number for the U. S. musical, "Onstage, Francis."

The words leaked out that Talulah Bankhead spouts some blistering words about her movie experiences at Paramount's Astoria and Hollywood studios during the early '30s in her autobiography, "Talulah," due on the bookshelves in September.

John Barrymore, Jr., in collaboration with William Froelich, is writing a suspense screenplay for himself, Aunt Ethel and Uncle Lionel. Young Barrymore's the first of the famous clan to have scribbling ambitions.

Movies are wonderful! Jean LaFitte was one of the principal characters in Paul Wellman's "The Iron Mistress," but movie audiences won't see hide or hair of the famous pirate in Warner's screen version of the best-seller.

Gloria Swanson's agent, Helen Ainsworth, relays it that Gloria vetoed a starring role in "Crossroads" because the producer refused to have the screenplay rewritten. La Swanson wanted more emphasis on the heroine role and less wordage for her leading man.

Frank Fontaine overheard it: "Honey, you've had your poodle cut for five weeks now—ain't it time you learned to sit up and do tricks?"

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Truth and Freedom

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
 Over the main entrance of the college where I spent some happy years, and where especially I learned to read and understand the Bible with a new intelligence and insight, was carved, deep in the stone, the words of Jesus from John 8:32: THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE.

It was a noble, inviting, and inspiring motto for the students who entered that portal; and Victoria College, now a part of the University of Toronto, lived up to its motto in the open-minded earnestness of its teachers.

But what was the truth, the knowledge of which, Jesus said, would set men free? And what is the freedom that the knowledge of the truth bestows?

We are wont to give far too little regard to the Judaistic background of Christianity, the spiritual realities, that Jesus said He had come not to destroy, but to fulfill.

Deen in the spiritual realities was the conviction concerning God and righteousness. This touched with glory Israel's great prophets, saints, and poets, but it was an ideal with which I don't have the courage to ever make another movie."

Yet, as a keen observer had noted, many of these hypocritical and wicked had been "in great power and spreading himself like a green bay tree," while the history of Israel was blood-red with the sufferings and persecutions of the devout, the faithful, and the saintly.

The Psalmist of Psalm 37 had something more to say to get the record straight, but the discrepancy between the apparent prosperity of the wicked and the suffering of the saints emphasizes the age-old, and still present, mystery of truth and freedom.

The cynics' Platonic asked Jesus, "What is truth?" and as a cynic he might well have asked it, for he couldn't understand. The cynic of today might similarly ask, "What is freedom?" for the answer is not simple, and the freedom that is most real and deep the cynic might not consider freedom at all.

I think I have found a striking illustration of that sort of freedom. Thomas Cranmer was a leader in the Protestant Reformation in England. A career marked by much that was fine was marked also by much that was questionable and dishonorable and reached its lowest depth, when he recanted from his former beliefs, faced with death in the persecutions of "Bloody Mary." But when, publicly, he recanted his recantation, accepted death at the stake, and thrust first into the flames the hand that had signed the recantation he found a freedom in his dying hour and a touch of glory in his life that nothing could tarnish.

where he no strife. I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdsman and the herdsman; for we be brethren. Is not the whole land before thee? separate thyself! I pray thee from me, if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left.—Genesis 13: 8, 9.

Love your neighbor, yet pull not down your hedge.—Herbert.

GOP's 1950 Policy Statement Contains Eisenhower's Stand

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Mr. Dwight Eisenhower says that "so far as principles are concerned" he is "in general accord" with the Republican policy statement of February, 1950. This brings up the matter of how that statement was put together, and what's in it. This is the best way to get a condensed version of what Mr. Other Republican stands for, now a subject of endless controversy.

The idea for this 1950 GOP policy statement originated with General Eisenhower himself in September, 1949. Eisenhower was then president of Columbia University.

He telephoned Republican National Committee Chairman Guy George Gabrielson saying: "I hope the Republicans now will develop party principles so that even a person as dumb as I am will be able to tell the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties."

Sen. Robert A. Taft immediately took a crack at that one. In a speech at West Union, O., Taft said, "I read in a newspaper that General Eisenhower wants to know what the Republican party stands for. That's easy. The Republican party is opposed to controls by the federal government over the activities of the American people."

"We have sought to equalize labor-management relations. We have opposed universal military training. We have opposed socialized medicine. We are against the Brannan farm plan. We are against the Fair Deal program which can only result in setting up in this country a Labor-Socialist government, which has failed in England."

TAFT FLATLY OPPOSED TO DRAFT STATEMENT

In spite of this brush-off, Chairman Gabrielson proceeded to make the draft of a 1950 statement of principles a first order of business. He wanted a group made up of members of the National committee and the Senate and House Republican policy committees to do the drafting.

Senator Taft informed Gabrielson he was flatly opposed to the whole idea of drafting a new statement of party policy. Taft refused to name a sub-committee of senators for Gabrielson.

Chairman Gabrielson then decided to go ahead on his own. He named a 15 member committee of state leaders to draw up a mid-term platform. On it were such Republican wheelhorses as Clarence Buddington of Kansas, Harrison Spangler of Iowa, Ralph Calk of Oregon, McIntire Farley of California, Arthur Summerfield of Michigan and Mrs. F. Peavey Heffelfinger of Minnesota.

They produced a draft early in January. And when Senator Taft and House Republican Leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts saw that Gabrielson was going ahead with his project, they decided to name independent committees to make other drafts.

The result was a 2500-word statement of policies which was unveiled at the Republican National Convention box rally in Washington's Uline arena, Feb. 6, 1950. The statement was presented as having been adopted by the House and Senate Republicans and concurred in by the Republican National Committee.

REPUDIATED BI-PARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY
 A certain amount of professional jealousy and pride of authorship naturally entered into this presentation because the members of Congress in any minority party always regard themselves as custodians of party policy between national conventions.

Anyway, this 1950 policy statement opened with a declaration that the Republican party aimed "to win a lasting peace... and to hold aloft the inspiring torch of American Freedom."

In effect, it repudiated bi-partisan foreign policy and called for "vigilant critical exploration of administration foreign policy."

On domestic policy, it declared the major issue is "liberty against socialism." Then it stated specific farm, civil rights, loyalty and other programs.

The next party hassle over this platform arose when Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine suggested that the platform be condensed. Chairman Gabrielson set to work and produced a ten-point summary which could be printed on a post card.

It called for: 1—Reducing taxes. 2—Balancing budget. 3—Eliminating government waste. 4—Fighting communism here instead of condoning it. 5—Providing fair farm prices—but no Brannan plan. 6—Continuing and improving Taft-Hartley law. 7—Developing an adequate social security system. 8—Protecting rights of veterans and minorities. 9—Developing a united American foreign policy for peace. 10—Safeguarding liberty against socialism.

Senator Taft immediately said the digest "has no official standing whatsoever. Anybody can prepare a digest. Nobody was consulted about this."

Save by Planning Menus Ahead

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

What's for tomorrow's dinner? Answer that one and you can save money. If you plan dinners days in advance, you can take advantage of markets specials, abundant foods and left-overs far better than if you rush into planning a meal at the last moment.

Take a look at these budget menus, planned to get the most food for your money into the family's meals.

1—Broiled chicken, mashed turnips, steamed dandelion greens, tomato wedges with dressing, butter-scotch bread pudding, coffee, milk.

2—Broiled ham steaks, rice, with raisins, green beans, lettuce wedges with French dressing, chilled peach halves, cookies, coffee, milk.

3—Beef-and-sauerkraut goulash, boiled potatoes, pickled beets, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, ice cream with crushed fresh strawberries, coffee, milk.

To Rebuild a Marriage Hit by Infidelity Takes Both Partners

"If a man deceives his wife once by an affair with another woman can she ever trust him again?" The wife who asks me that question adds: "He says he was a fool; that he really loves me and that it will never happen again. But can I believe him?"

That depends a great deal on two things. The first is the character of the man you're married to.

If he is a man of strong character who has made a mistake he is ashamed of and genuinely sorry for, if in the past your happiness has been important to him, then you're every right to believe that he means what he says.

If he is a weak sister, selfish and unreliable, then chances are he is likely to get involved in other affairs.

The second important consideration is how you mean to behave toward him.

BURY FAST IF YOU ARE UNDERSTANDING ENOUGH

If you are strong enough and understanding enough to let the past be buried you will be able to help him keep his word. That means that you must not only stop talking about the matter, you must show him in every way that you do trust him, that you love him, and that you aren't sorry that you married him.

The future of a marriage that has been weakened by infidelity depends not alone on the person who was unfaithful.

It depends on both partners—on their maturity, their willingness to forget the past and live in the present, their honest desire to get back to the unity that was once theirs, and their belief in their own and each other's worth as human beings.

Farm Near Franklin Brings $505 Per Acre

Charles N. Wright, retired Jacksonville lumber dealer, purchased an 80-acre tract of farm land located northwest of Franklin for $505 an acre at a public auction in the Morgan county court house Saturday morning. The farm was the property of the estate of Mary Catherine Ryan, deceased. Total purchase price was $40,400.

The sale, conducted by the Midland Brothers of Jacksonville, auctioneers, was spirited and attended by a large crowd. The farm consists of unimproved brown and black silt loam upland prairie soil, all tillable. Attorneys for the Ryan estate are Wilson and Wright of Jacksonville.

In a second sale at the court house a home and two lots in Murrayville owned by the late Emma D. Warcup were sold to Donald Lakin, White Hall, for $2,660. Lakin operates a locker plant in Murrayville.

The sale was conducted by Elvis Spencer, Murrayville auctioneer. David Million is executor of the Warcup estate and the firm of Vaughn, Robinson and Foreman were the attorneys in the transaction.

Engagement Of Miss Tomsen Is Told At Party

Chapin—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tomsen, 2444 Northland Avenue St. Louis, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joann, to Ronald Haase, son of Mrs. Walter Haase, 8936 McNulty Drive, St. Louis.

The engagement was revealed at a midnight buffet supper held June 10 at Cross Roads, with the parents of the bride-elect entertaining. Mrs. Thomsen is the former Kathleen Oehler of Winchester.

As the guests arrived at the supper they were handed tiny programs which when opened contained the betrothed couple's names inscribed inside a large engagement ring.

The prospective bride is employed as a dance instructor at the Marilyn School of Dance, Overland and Brentwood, Mo. Mr. Haase is employed at the McDonnell Aircraft corporation. No definite date for the wedding has been made.

Attending the announcement party from Chapin were Mrs. Ellen O. Coultas and Miss Letha Eilers. Miss Tomsen is a niece of Mrs. Coultas.

Famous Peruvian Sings Our Praises

EDITOR'S NOTE: Yma Sumac, the Peruvian singer with a rare voice, has a beauty that matches her voice in brilliance. In this exclusive story, she tells women how she makes the most of basic good looks and how to capitalize on both assets and liabilities. It's a story for all women everywhere by a woman who's an expert at making the most of beauty in both her private and her professional lives.

BY YMA SUMAC
Written for NEA Service

American women are wonderful. No matter where I travel—from Paris to Peru—their knowledge of clothes and make-up is above all others.

I, personally, have learned much during my visits to the United States about how to make the most of my dark coloring. In Peru, where I come from, there is little attention paid to perfecting the curve of your eyebrows and the waves in your hair.

But I have discovered that an expertly handled eyebrow pencil can create exotic lines, and varying shades of lipstick can actually change the tone of my skin.

I am glad, too, that I have become a confirmed user of eye make-up. Although my lashes are long and black, with the help of mascara, I make them even more so. This effect is especially important when I am before an audience. I also wear silver shadow in the evening.

Because my coloring tends to be extremely vivid—due to the high mountain air in the Peruvian Andes—I rarely use rouge, and I choose a foundation base and powder that blend with my natural skin tone.

Of course, a vital part of make-up is hair care. Since I am constantly traveling in different climates all over the world, my hair often gets terribly dry. I remedy the condition with a lanolin cream treatment at least once a week.

I guess I'm just old-fashioned about long hair, but I can't bring myself to have mine cut. I do believe, though, that every woman should wear her hair in whatever way it is most becoming—regardless of trends. Since my hair is long enough to touch the middle of my back, I have a wide choice of styles.

As far as perfume is concerned, let it suffice to say I couldn't think of living without it. I enjoy many different fragrances, and wear whichever pleases me at the moment. I do my nails myself, and must admit I am not partial to vivid colors. I wear a fragile pink during the day and a slightly more brilliant shade at night.

Green is my favorite color, but I don't believe any color can equal black for giving a woman a look of complete elegance. When I am not appearing in a show, suits are my most comfortable clothes, but, of course, I must have many gowns because of my work.

The hats I wear depend on the costume, but I prefer small, exotic versions with veils. The primary reason for the small hats is because I am only five feet two and one-half inches tall—without shoes. Pumps are the most comfortable footwear. I feel, but in the evening I usually switch to satin sandals.

Many women enjoy switching jewelry just as they do their hats—but not I. Peruvian gold seems most natural for me to wear. I have a variety of fascinating pieces, and I enjoy mixing and matching them.

I always wear earrings, but often I do not wear a necklace. It is so easy to spoil a dramatic effect with too much jewelry. I try to be especially careful about this.

As I spend most of my evenings before an audience, I keep my daytime life as casual as possible. Around the house I wear a lounging robe, and dress only to go out. Now that the weather is so beautiful, however, my husband and I like to take our young son to see the sights. I wish all women the world over could see, as I have, the importance of beauty in America. It has certainly inspired me to make the most of my own personal potential.

Household Hints

Good vegetable luncheon plate: Heat canned whole-kernel corn, drain, and top with crisp bacon slices. Serve with baked potatoes and broiled tomato halves seasoned with salt, freshly-ground pepper, and basil.

Use glassware on top of the range only if it was made for that use—there is a difference between top-of-range and oven glassware. Be sure to read and follow the directions that come with the glass utensils you buy.

Don't throw away the liquid from canned vegetables; it contains valuable nutrients. Use it in soups, gravies, or vegetable cocktails.

Springtime supper dish: Cooked asparagus spears rolled between thin slices of ham and topped with well-seasoned cheese sauce.

When you are roasting a chicken simmer the giblets and neck in a cup or two of water to which you have added a bay leaf, a few peppercorns, a small onion, a sprig of parsley, and a little salt. Use this giblet broth with which to make gravy after the chicken is roasted.

Picnic Planned By Murrayville Home Bureau Unit

Murrayville—The committee for the unit picnic to be held in August was named at a meeting of the Murrayville unit of the Home Bureau held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wilson Tuesday. Those on the committee are Mrs. Ralph Heaton, Mrs. A. J. Lonergan and Mrs. Bryon Waters.

Mrs. C. F. Strang, chairman, presided at the business meeting. The meeting opened with the group singing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." Mrs. Ralph Heaton gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports. Mrs. Robert Mutch presented an article, "$505 Million." Summer safety reminders were given by Mrs. Bryon Waters.

Mrs. Ethel Stringer read the highlights of the recent board meeting. It was announced that the lesson to be given on June 25 will be "Photographic Technique." The district meeting will be held with the Asbury unit on Sept. 11.

The major lesson, "Party Sandwiches," was given by Mrs. Frances King, home adviser. She demonstrated various types of sandwiches. Mrs. Arthur Wilson conducted a contest on recognition of leaves.

Mrs. Oliver Sooy was a guest. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Cary Andras.

The next meeting will be held July 8 at the home of Mrs. W. E. Blackburn.

Bible School in Session
The daily Vacation Bible school opened Monday at the Baptist church with an enrollment of 88 pupils.

Classes meet from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Commencement exercises will be held in the church on June 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Those in charge of the school are Mrs. Ora Perkins, superintendent; Mrs. Russell Summers, principal; teachers, intermediate, Mrs. Norris Bracewell; juniors, Mrs. Russell Summers, Mrs. Carl Sooy and Mrs. Clyde Vestel; eight year olds, Mrs. Wesley Spencer; seven years, Mrs. Frank Boston and Miss Velma Spencer; six years, Mrs. Jewel Alcorn; five years, Miss Greta Summers; four years, Mrs. Russell Mason and Mrs. Floyd Smith.

The Gospel Team, composed of six young people from Granite City, held services in the Baptist church here Sunday morning and evening. The group includes an evangelist, singer, chalk talk artist, musician and devotional leader.

Golconda is a fortress near Hyderabad city in the Deccan which gained the implication of fabulous wealth associated with the name because diamonds found in the area were cut there.

Carrollton Hospital Notes

Carrollton—Seven babies were born the past week in Boyd Memorial hospital, fifteen persons were entered for surgery and sixteen for medical care.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Moore of Hardin; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clayborn Wallis of Greenfield; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ralston of Rodhouse; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Lonny Westfall of Piasa; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Murry of Dow; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Schaaf of Fieldon and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Lowder of Jerseyville.

Patients undergoing surgery were Miss Marilyn Williams, Miss Doris Williams, Mrs. John Allala, of Carrollton; Miss Marilyn Thaxton, Miss Rita Smith, Miss Beverly Smith, Mrs. Rosalee Universagt, Jack Rexford and Paul Knisley of Greenfield; Virgil Searis, Gregory McCarty, Gail Norton, John England and Dennis Witt of Jerseyville; and Carl Heraty of Fieldon.

Ashland School Buses Need New Storage Garage

Ashland—A special school election will be held June 17 in regard to the construction of a bus garage for housing school buses. The proposal, the cost of which will not be over $8,000, calls for building of concrete blocks and wood, 60 foot by 34 foot.

Taxes will not be raised for the building as funds are now on hand to pay for it. The site for the garage is already a possession of the district. The purpose of the vote is because the school code requires such if a building is not attached to one already constructed. The school has been renting garage space for $660 per year. The rental alone would soon equal the cost of a new building.

Many repairs on school buses have been difficult to make under the present conditions, especially in the winter. The garage will have two stalls divided and heated. One part will be used for instruction service for the farm mechanics for boys in agriculture classes. Space for this work is also badly needed.

ARENZVILLE

Arenzville—The regular meeting of the Arenzville Community club was held Monday night at the Community and Legion hall. State's Attorney Milton McClure was guest speaker.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Meyer and son of California, visited the past week at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meyer and family.

Doctor Rosemary Niemann returned to her duties in Peoria after spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. Lila Niemann of this city.

Sharon Rose Mallicoat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mallicoat of Wickenburg, Ariz., arrived here to spend the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mallicoat, Route 2, of this city.

Harry L. Pate To Address Meet Of Demo Women

The Morgan County Democratic Women's club will hold a potluck dinner at the Centenary Methodist church at 6:30 p.m. June 17, it was announced Saturday.

The principal speaker for the occasion will be Attorney Harry L. Pate, an assistant on the staff of State Attorney General Ivan A. Elliott.

Since graduating from the University of Illinois law school, Pate has been in general law practice in Tuscola. During that time he has been active in civic and government affairs. He has served as city attorney of Tuscola, state's attorney of Douglas county, president of the Rotary club and president of the Chamber of Commerce. He also served as field assistant under two former attorneys general.

Attorney Pate saw overseas service in the U. S. Army in World War II, is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and is past commander of American Legion Post No. 27.

Along with his other duties in the attorney general's office, Pate handles many cases for the State of Illinois in the State Supreme Court.

Members of the club and friends are cordially invited to attend and are requested to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service.

COMMITTEE OF CUB PACK HAS POTLUCK, MEETING AT LAKE

Twenty-four committee members of the South Jacksonville Cub Scout pack 113 met Friday evening at the Boy Scout cabin at Lake Jacksonville and enjoyed a potluck supper. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Massey were host and hostess and furnished the dessert and beverage.

After the meal a social period and business meeting were held. At this time committees were named to locate new den mothers; decide on location for a pack trip during the month of July and assist at the fishing meet for pack members held Saturday, June 14.

LYNNVILLE LUCKIES TO PARTICIPATE IN ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The Lynnville Luckies 4-H club met Wednesday afternoon, June 11, at the Lynnville school. A demonstration of pasteurizing milk was given by Donna Morris. A frozen dessert was prepared and served during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 17, at the school. Plans are to participate in the local achievement day.

500 I. S. D. Alumni To Attend 75th Reunion At School June 19-21

Illinois School for the Deaf graduates and former students from various parts of the state and country will convene at the local state school Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, June 19, 20, and 21, for a convention of the I. S. D. alumni association. About 500 are expected to attend.

This gathering of the I. S. D. alumni which originally had been planned for last year was postponed to this year to permit commemoration of the association's 75th anniversary.

Alumni of I. S. D. held their first convention at the institution September 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 1877 during the superintendency of Dr. Philip G. Gillett. Over 100 attended and the Illinois School for the Deaf alumni association was founded. Officers elected were Frank Read of the class of 1882, president; James W. Walker, also of the class of 1882, vice president; and James W. Tipton, of the class of 1873, secretary. The president, Frank Read, was a resident of Jacksonville, his home being on Sandusky street, where he resided for many years.

Assisting in the founding of the I. S. D. alumni association was Selah Wait, a member of the teaching staff at the school. He was adviser to the organization committee and took an active part in the sessions of the first convention. His interest and influence ensured the continuance of the association.

Mr. Wait was a graduate of the New York School for the Deaf. He was appointed an instructor at the Illinois School for the Deaf during the early days of the school when it was headed by Thomas Officer, the first superintendent. Mr. Wait commenced his teaching at I. S. D. in 1884 and continued until his death in 1902. His home was on Sandusky st. and his children later became members of the I. S. D. faculty. A granddaughter, Mrs. Orville N. Foreman resides in this city.

Reception Thursday Night
The 1952 meeting of the association opens with registration Thursday afternoon at 1:30. A reception is to be held in the gymnasium in the evening.

The open business session will be held in the auditorium Friday morning. Meetings will be held thereafter morning and afternoon until the final business session Saturday evening.

Friday's business sessions will be devoted to various committee reports. John M. Tubergen, '35 of Forest Park, Illinois, president of the alumni association will deliver an address Friday afternoon.

Friday evening S. Robey Burns, '14 of Chicago will give a lecture on his trip to Copenhagen, Denmark for the International Games of the Deaf. Movies of the trip will follow the talk. During the remainder of the evening there will be a dance in the gymnasium with music being furnished by Wallace Baptist.

Cloud, Kline To Speak
Dr. Daniel T. Cloud, superintendent of the local state school will address the gathering at the Saturday morning session. Dr. Cloud who was recently appointed superintendent of the New York School for the Deaf will assume his duties at that school July 1. Thomas K. Kline, newly appointed superintendent of I. S. D. will also deliver an address to the alumni Saturday morning.

Saturday afternoon alumnae of the I. S. D. Girls' Athletic association will hold a special business meeting in the Unit III girls' dormitory. Mrs. Charles Sellers, '29 of Rockford will preside at the meeting.

A banquet which over 400 are expected to attend will be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening. Mrs. Orville N. Foreman will be the main speaker.

Included in the banquet entertainment will be dance numbers presented by students from Mary Jane's Dance studio of this city.

Sunday morning religious services will be conducted in the auditorium with Rev. N. P. Uhlig of this city, Lutheran minister to the Deaf, in charge.

North Vs. South
At noon Sunday there will be a soft ball game between picked teams from Northern and Southern Illinois. Charles Pendergast, '46 of Rockford will manage the Northern team, while Walter Gregory, '46 of East St. Louis will be at the helm of the Southern team.

During the day a picnic is to be held on the front lawn. Ralph Brasel, '35 of Franklin is general chairman of the picnic arrangements.

As part of the 75th anniversary observance of the alumni association there will be a picture exhibit of pictures of pupils, teachers, classes, organizations, athletic teams, and events pertaining to school life at I. S. D. taken since the Civil War. Among the pictures are some which were taken at the first convention of the alumni association in September, 1877.

The picture exhibit will be held in the M. I. S. Room in Unit III. The exhibit is open to the public.

The Rev. T. Schroeder, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Arenzville, R. 1 will deliver the mission message in the evening service at 7:30 o'clock. Pastor Schroeder served as a missionary in Argentina, S. A. from 1928 to 1931.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Peoria Site Of Encampment For VFW, Auxiliaries

Credentials to the department Encampment of Illinois were given to the delegates at the VFW Auxiliary meeting held Wednesday evening at the home.

President, Laura Prickett, presided at the meeting during which a letter was read stating the opening of the encampment will be at 10 a.m. Friday, June 20. The Auxiliary headquarters will be at the Jefferson hotel in Peoria.

The department chairman luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and at two o'clock in the afternoon the Parade of All Posts and Auxiliaries will move.

There will be a banquet served at 5 p.m. Saturday with a dance at nine o'clock.

Harriett Pate and Doris Robinson represented the Auxiliary at a recent meeting concerning the disposal of garbage.

Rachel Massey stated the Auxiliary will have a party June 18 at the State Hospital. The announcement was made that the hospital bed the Auxiliary is receiving has arrived. Harriett Pate was appointed chairman in charge of the bed.

President Prickett thanked all who marched in the Memorial Day parade and also those that helped to decorate the float. Hostesses for the next meeting are Jennie Dunn, Nida Dunn and Fredeline Phillips. At the close of the meeting bunco was played with prizes going to Sue Ryan, Marion Brennen, Adeline Warmouth. Refreshments were served by Theresa Walton, Jessie Bond and Georgia Seymour.

CASS PARENTS ATTEND SON'S COMMENCEMENT

Chandlerville—Mr. and Mrs. Martin Eilers and son, DeWayne were in Peoria June 9 to attend the graduation exercises at Bradley University where their son, Elvin L. Eilers was a member of the commencement class of 751.

The 55th annual commencement was held in the Robertson Memorial field house before 3,000 parents, alumni and friends. Elvin graduated with honors and received his degree as Bachelor of Science, mechanical engineer.

Have A General Electric Garbage Disposall"

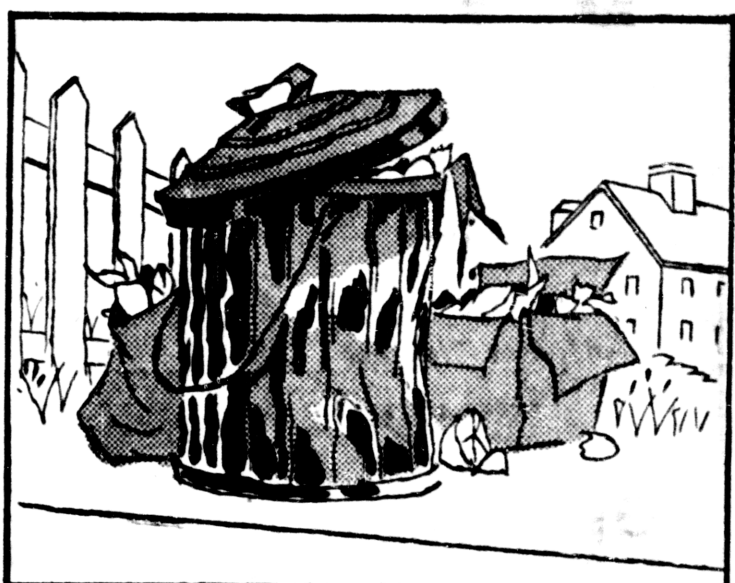

WHY SHOULD YOU KEEP GARBAGE IN YOUR HOME?

IN YOUR SINK! Don't let your sink be a garbage-collector. Chunks of smelly, sink staining garbage are so unsanitary . . . so unappetizing!

IN YOUR KITCHEN! A smelly, greasy garbage pail is an ugly sight in any kitchen. And you know what a messy job it is to scrub out a dirty garbage pail!

IN YOUR YARD! Don't keep a grocery store for dogs . . . and flies. A dirty garbage can is a menace to good health. And it spoils the appearance of your whole yard.

Commencement Crowd Attends College Play

"Double, double, toil and trouble; fire burn and cauldron bubble." As these lines were spoken in the eerie scene of the witches in "Macbeth" Friday night on the Illinois College campus, the elements seemed to take note as gusts of wind and black clouds rolled up to provide an appropriate setting for the Hilltop Players of Illinois College as they staged their annual commencement week Shakespearean drama.

The play was staged in the Ames natural theater before several hundred returning alumni and friends of the college who, earlier in the evening, attended the traditional Osage Orange picnic on the campus. The returning alumni ate pot-luck suppers at tables reserved for them. They were joined by students, faculty and townspeople who ate at other tables set up on the lawn before Sturtevant hall.

Stars in "Macbeth" were Miss Donna Postlewaite, Chapin, who played Lady Macbeth, and David Brick, Joliet, who portrayed Macbeth. The witches in the above mentioned scene were Florence Majewski, Chicago; Mrs. Joan Falkenberg, Sterling; and Robert Mayberry, Fairfield.

Bellatti New President

It was announced Friday afternoon that John Bellatti, Jacksonville attorney, had been elected president of the Illinois College Alumni association this spring. He will serve during 1932-33. The announcement was made by the Alumni Council. Bellatti was graduated in the class of 1940, was president of Sigma Xi literary society and is a graduate of the Harvard Law School.

Bellatti succeeds Harold Gibson, class of 1930, member of the faculty at Illinois State Normal University. The Council also announced that Fred Hoskins of the class of 1926 was elected at the same time as one of the three alumni members of the board of trustees. He replaces J. Fairbanks Smith, San Francisco, class of 1916, whose three-year term expired Friday.

Hoskins is pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park. He is a past president of the Alumni association and the Alumni Fund association. He is also director of the Greater Church Federation of Chicago and the Chicago Theological Seminary. Rev. Hoskins was a member of Gamma Nu literary society.

Other officers elected by the Alumni association were Mrs. Jeanne Rantz Rammelkamp, Jacksonville, class of 1940, vice president of the association; Dr. Robert Hartman, Jacksonville, 1935, secretary-treasurer; and A. Wadsworth Applebee, Jacksonville, 1937, and Mrs. Dallas Hagan, Jacksonville, 1928, members of the board of directors of the Alumni Council.

Commencement exercises will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the college grove Sunday morning. Featured speaker for the occasion will be James Oates, Jr., chairman of the board of directors of the Peoples Gas, Light & Coke company of Chicago. The proceedings of the commencement will be taped for broadcast over radio station WLDS Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In case of inclement weather the commencement will take place in the Memorial gymnasium.

Private Rites For Levi Gaddis Held At Ashland

Ashland—Private services for Levi Gaddis were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Gaither funeral home with Rev. J. Wesley Smith, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

Two songs, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" and "Nearer to the Heart of God," were sung by Mrs. Seth Minter with Mrs. J. H. Douglas at the piano.

The following cared for flowers: Mrs. Esther McGill, Mrs. Peggy Carter and Mrs. Moulton Fulton. Pallbearers were John Walker, Darrell Walker, S. D. Quinley, John Brown, Roy Savage and Beckham Beard. Interment was made in the Ashland cemetery.

Pfletcher Rites Held At Ashland

Ashland—Funeral services for Ray Pfletcher, owner of the Ashland theater, were held Wednesday afternoon, June 11 at the local Methodist church with Rev. W. W. Harding in charge.

Mrs. Seth Minters and Mrs. Sinclair Savage sang several numbers, accompanied by Roy Salzman at the organ.

The floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. J. T. Strubling, Mrs. Fred Owens, Mrs. James Riggs, Mrs. R. V. Brownback and Mrs. Carl Orne.

Pallbearers were J. T. Strubling, Carl Orne, James Riggs, Follis Paul, F. V. Brownback and Sinclair Savage.

After the services in Ashland the body was taken to the Marsten funeral home at Rushville where rites were held Thursday at the funeral home and burial made in the Roseville cemetery.

Mrs. Lloyd Moss, chairman, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with the group singing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." The major lesson, "Party Sandwiches," was given by Mrs. Frances King, home adviser. Mrs. John Hadden presented the minor lesson on "Book Reviews."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses. Guests were Mrs. W. G. Watts, Mrs. James Hadden and Mrs. Arthur Jokisch.

The next meeting will be held at the North Jacksonville school with the 4-H club members as guests.

WED AT ARMY CHAPEL

Pvt. and Mrs. Richard Loveless

Waverly—Miss Eva Marie Bristow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bristow of Palmyra, and Pvt. Richard Loveless son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Loveless of Modesto, were united in marriage May 31 at six o'clock in the evening at a chapel of the 28th infantry regiment, Fort Jackson, S. C.

Chaplain James M. Blunk performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white linen street length dress and white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses and streamers with ribbon and red rosebuds. Mrs. Marion Bristow, sister-in-law of the bride, served as maid of honor and was attired in a simple dress of pink tulle. Sgt. John A. Guthrie was best man.

The bride is a graduate of North-western high school, class of 1952. The bridegroom is also a graduate of that school in the class of 1949. Before entering the service he was employed at the Ralph Williams garage at Modesto.

Those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bristow; Mrs. Hattie Padgett, grandmother of the bride, of Palmyra; Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Bristow and sons, Leroy and Kenneth of Chico, Calif.; and Pvt. and Mrs. Donald Ashley.

The newly married couple will reside at Columbia, S. C.

Many Records Broken In NCAA Track Meet

By Ted Smits
Associated Press Sports Editor
Berkeley, Calif., June 14 — (AP) — John Barnes of Occidental capped a series of record breaking performances in the National Collegiate A.A. Track championships today with a spectacular 1:49.6 in the 800 meters.

American Women Capture Wightman Tennis Trophy

Wimbledon, England, June 14 — (AP) — America's four best women tennis players outclassed Britain in seven straight matches and captured the big silver Wightman Cup today for the 16th straight time in the 29 years of the trophy competition.

The U. S. quartet dropped only one set in the two-day competition. After winning the first three matches yesterday, the U. S. needed only one victory in four matches this afternoon, and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., went right out and got it. The U. S. had won two singles and one doubles match yesterday, and picked up three singles and a double match this afternoon.

Enos Slaughter Takes RF Lead In All-Star Poll

Chicago, June 14 — (AP) — Enos (Country) Slaughter, an old hand at appearing in All-Star baseball games, is back at his favorite stand.

The 36-year-old outfielder with the St. Louis Cardinals, a veteran of eight interleague contests, today snatched the lead in the poll to determine the right field spot for the National league in the 19th All-Star game at Philadelphia July 8.

Slaughter seized first place from Gene Hermanski of the Chicago Cubs when his total vote soared to 41,452, an advantage of 2,250 over Hermanski, who led at the position since the poll started eight days ago.

Slaughter, if chosen in the final counting, will realize his ambition to play in his ninth All-Star game, which still will be short of the record of 13 held by Joe DiMaggio, former Yankee bomber.

After the first eight days of the 22-day balloting period, this is the way the rival teams stand up:

Chicago Nine Quits In Third, Murrayville Wins

Games Tonight
Lewis Elevator vs. Alton Dominos (7 p.m.)
Murrayville vs. House of Clay (8:30 p.m.)

A heated rhubarb over an umpire's decision at home plate resulted in the Chicago Hot-Ten-Tots walking off the Nichols Park diamond in the third inning and leaving some 350 softball fans with no game to watch.

The Tots were leading the Murrayville Eagles 2-1 and Verba Spencer's Morgan county nine was batting in the third when the rhubarb began. Murrayville Pitcher Bobby Garner was batting. Slim Jim Russell was throwing them across for the Tots.

The wildly pitched ball struck Garner's hand and the bat when he attempted to dodge, according to plate umpire Luther "Dummy" Taylor.

Hot-Ten-Tot manager Dick Hudson claimed that Garner should be called out. Taylor said no. An argument resulted and Hudson called his team off the field. Umpires Taylor and Al Teaters gave the Tots three minutes to resume play. Hudson refused and Murrayville was awarded the game by forfeit.

Recreation club president Harold Lair immediately announced that the fans could receive their ticket refunds at the box office. He also announced that the Hot-Ten-Tots will play no more softball in Jacksonville.

The Tots were scheduled to meet the House of Clay at Nichols Park tonight. Instead, the Claymen will meet Murrayville in the second game this evening. Lewis Elevator engaged the Alton Dominos in the 7 o'clock curtain-raiser.

Clint Arenz' Cozy Dogs whipped the Beardstown Junior Merchants 12-6 in the curtain-raiser. Bob Scott slammed a home run for the local club.

Charles Was Toughest And Maxim Has No Intention Of Messing Up His Biggest Pay Day With Robinson

By Murray Olderman
NEA Staff Correspondent
Grossinger, N.Y. — (NEA) — Joey Maxim was growling about the tough lot of a champion as he mopped the pour of perspiration from his face in this training camp high in the hills of the Borscht circuit.

"When I was a challenger," muttered Joey, "I got no debts. I own a house and car. I got plenty of fights, plenty of pay days. Then I become champ, and I got no fights. Only a couple of delicatessens in Cleveland."

But he'll be able to buy lots of bologna after slicing up the gate with Sugar Ray Robinson at Yankee Stadium, June 23.

"My biggest pay day," nodded Joey, "and I'm not gonna mess it up. For my last one with Charles I got too fat. I didn't fight for 18 months. I ballooned up to 201 and couldn't move."

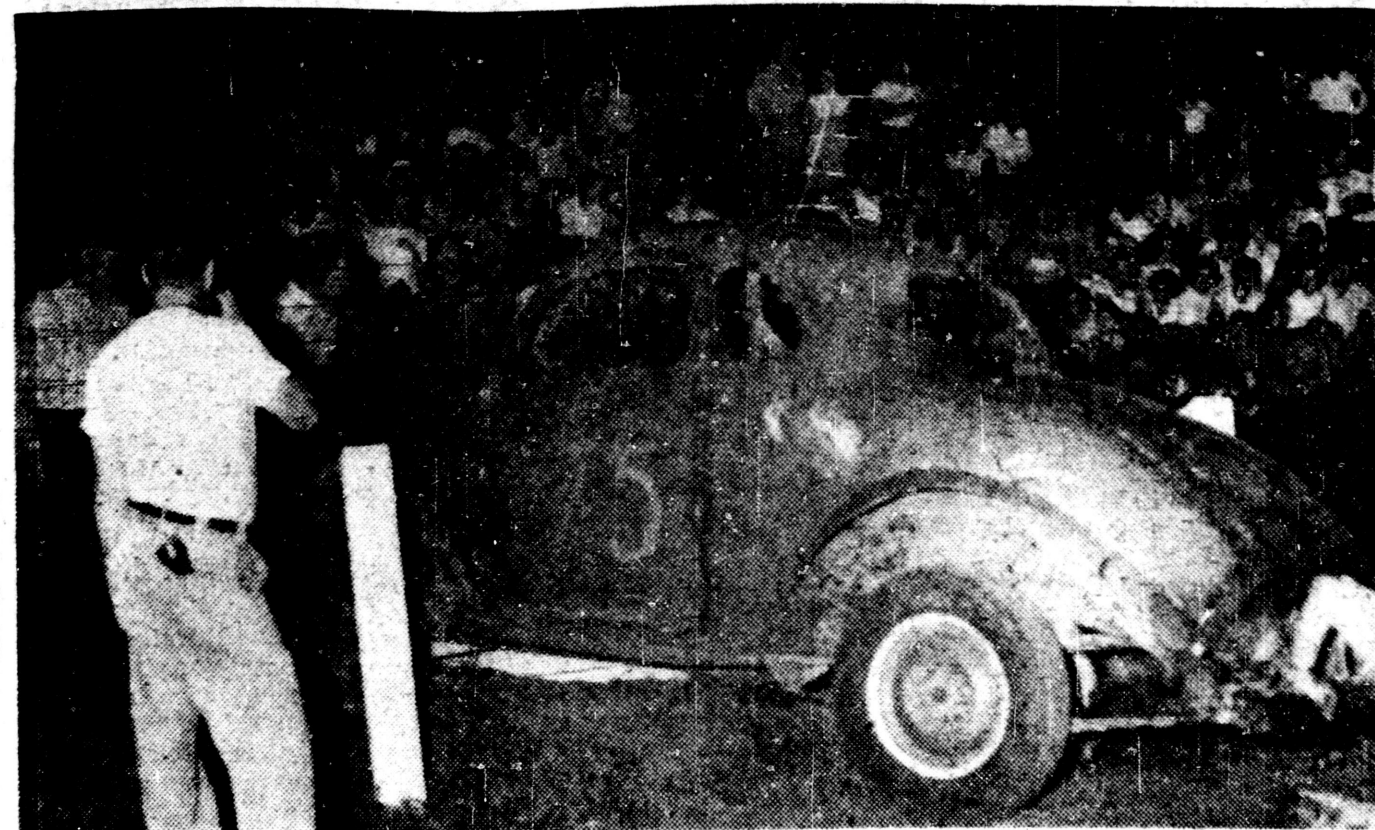

"I don't watch out, and I'm a chunky little devil. Some day I'm gonna be big and fat. I started training for this fight at 188 and want to get down to 173. I'll make it. I lose eight pounds in one day if I want to. Will power—that's what I got, eh, Jack?"

Jack turned out to be Doc Kearns of Dempsey heyday fame, who picked up Maxim after his discharge from the Air Force in 1946 and nursed him to a title.

Champion Cuffed
The Maxim camp, improvised in an airplane hangar, has none of the elegance of numbers sported by Robinson—just Joey, Jack, trainer Al DeMonte and a few sparring partners. One, Chuck Hunter, made Joey step lively as he belted the "champ" for four rounds.

Quipped a bystander, "The way Chuck's tagging him with jabs, Joey might not have to go down to New York. He could lose the title at Grossinger's."

THIS WAS TOO CLOSE!

That must have been what stock car fans at the Morgan fair grounds were thinking when this souped-up coupe of Roy Setser's plowed into the fence and came to a halt just a few feet short of the stands Friday night.

However, protective 4 by 4's set in front of the bleachers stopped the auto in time and prevented a serious accident. Setser's auto wasn't damaged badly and he recovered in time to place fifth in the 40-lap feature race.

Little LEAGUERS

Two afternoon loops have been organized for Little League players. Spike Wilson announced Saturday night.

About 90 boys in the 8-10 year old age group will comprise one four-team league. Teams are Indians, Athletics, Tigers and Red Sox.

Over 50 11-12 year olds make up the other loop. Their teams are named Senators, White Sox, Yankees and Browns.

These teams will start play Monday afternoon. The Monday schedule shows: Indians vs. Athletics, 1 p.m.; Tigers vs. Red Sox, 2:15 p.m.; Senators vs. White Sox, 3:30 p.m. The Yankees and Browns will play on Tuesday.

This week's twilight schedule:

IVY FOOTBALL TOUGH. ATTESTS MICHIGAN MAN

Texas Sun Whips Bantam Ben Hogan; Ed Oliver Is Third

Dallas, June 14 — (AP) — Ben Hogan's golf dynasty crumbled Saturday and a 200-pound North Carolina apprentice professional, Julius Boros, came scrambling out of nowhere to win the 52nd National Open championship with a 72-hole score of 281.

The unheralded 32-year-old from Southern Pines, N. C., won with a four stroke margin over chubby Ed Oliver of Lemont, Ill., who sank a 30-foot birdie putt on the final green to beat out Hogan for second place by a stroke.

Oliver had a tournament total of 285 while Hogan finished with 286.

Ben Hogan Weakens
Playing like a man of destiny, Boros collared the great three-time champion Hogan with a blazing two-under-par 68 in the morning and then hung on firmly by shooting a scattered-shot 71 in the final round.

Hogan, the Hawk, as his fellow professionals call him, weakened under the blistering Texas sun and soared to rounds of 74 and 74 after wrenching the midway controls of his 52nd tournament with a pair of sparkling 69s.

He was a tired old man of 39 when he trudged to the 72nd green—his hopes of a record 40th championship in as many successive attempts shattered when kinks developed in his his once peerless iron game.

Oliver, the little round man who was disqualified for a late start after he finished in a tie for the title in 1940, played with Hogan as a partner on the final day and blasted out rounds of 70 and 72.

Other ambitions were wrecked and in ancient Roman times women often appeared in the arena to fight as gladiators.

strewn over Northwood's tight, 6,782-yard course in one of the most dramatic climaxes of the 58-year-old links classic.

Tall John Bulla of Verona, Pa., was a contender right up to the last. Then he missed a six-foot eagle putt on the 14th hole of his final round, went over par on the 16th and 18th and finished with a 287 for fourth place.

Fazio Blows Up
Balding George Fazio of Clementon, N. J., second behind Hogan going into the showdown final 36, blew himself to a pair of heart-breaking 75s which gave him fifth at 290.

And there was Sam Snead, a strong favorite finally to come through to the open crown he has never won. Snead went 40 straight holes without a birdie and made only three birdies in the entire 72 holes as he blew sky high to 293, a dozen strokes off the pace. He had final rounds of 76 and 72.

This was the first important tournament victory for Boros, a bronzed, bull-shouldered son of Hungarian parents who was born in Fairfield, Conn., and was an all-around athlete at Bridgeport university.

He is just three years out of amateur ranks, having led the nation's qualifying for the U. S. Amateur in 1948 and gained the quarter finals in the event in 1949.

But on the pro circuit he had never won a first prize. His only triumph of any sort was in the Massachusetts Open last year.

He had made bold stabs in his previous two open appearances, however, finishing in a tie for ninth in 1950 and for fourth last year at Detroit.

In ancient Roman times women often appeared in the arena to fight as gladiators.

First One Was Big One

National Open Title Changes Grim To Grin

By Harold V. Ratliff
Dallas, June 14 — (AP) — The first one was the big one for Julius Boros Saturday and he broke through his usual solid self with a broad grin as he won the National Open championship.

Doros, 32, seldom smiles and when he does it's just a crack in his almost grim exterior. But it wasn't like that this blistering afternoon. The 200-pound Hungarian showed his teeth as he dropped in a one-foot putt on the eighteenth green and knew the big championship was his. He had shot one-over-par 281 for the 72 pressure-packed holes.

Back of him Ben Hogan, the man with ice in his veins, was struggling to catch up. But Boros didn't know how Hogan was doing. "I didn't care," he said slowly.

Boros never had won a golf tournament on the PGA tour until today—in fact, he had been trying only a year and a half.

The bull-shouldered, touseled haired man showed no nervousness and took his honors without a word except when spoken to.

In the big press tent with newspapermen crowding around him, Boros posed for pictures, mopped perspiration from his brow and said he never had worried on his last two rounds during which he caught up with and passed the great Hogan.

Tonight, Boros said, he was driving to Connecticut to stop off in Bridgeport and then on to Green Harbor where he will visit his family.

Boros is a widower—his wife died in childbirth last year. He has a baby boy, Jay, nine months old.

Boros' putting was the feature of his last two rounds of two-under-par 68 and one-over-par-71 but said Big Jules, as he is called along the PGA tour: "I don't usually putt too well. In fact, I'm mediocre at it."

Boros answered questions without a sign of emotion. It was just as if he was sitting at a desk keeping books—that's what he was before he became a golfer, an accountant.

Boros answered questions without a sign of emotion. It was just as if he was sitting at a desk keeping books—that's what he was before he became a golfer, an accountant.

The Eastern clubs had things pretty much their own way during the two previous clashes between the loop's two divisions winning 22 and losing 15 during their first invasion of the West in early May and copping a lopsided 23 of 31 games of a subsequent series in which they entertained the Westerners.

The Eastern clubs won all four opening games of the first inter-sectional series in the East on May 13 with the Braves edging the Pirates, the Dodgers taking the Cardinals, the Giants defeating the Reds and the Phillies whipping the Cubs.

The deadline for trades comes up Sunday night at midnight (June 15) after which no player can be transferred from one club to another except via the waiver route.

The Giants, who lead in night game competition with 12 wins and but four defeats, have yet to lose a game under the Polo Grounds lights this year. Leo Durocher's crew, incidentally, was the National League "owl league" leader in '51 with a 28-13 night-game mark for the season.

Though the Dodgers lead the one-run margin standings in winning percentage, the Cardinals are way out in front in total wins with 15. The Giants, in coping the title in that department last year, won only 34 games all season by that narrowest of margins.

The longest game in the National League this year both in number of innings and length of time was the Giants-Reds game at Crosley Field the night of June 10 which Cincy captured 6-5 in 14 innings after four hours and 21 minutes of play. The same night "Little Joe" Presko of the Cardinals turned in the senior loop's first extrajoining whitewash job of the season when he shut out the Dodgers 1-0 in 10 innings.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Saturday night's "incident" at Nichols Park has been termed "most regrettable" by Recreation Club President Harold Lair. "We apologize to the fans for the disrupted program," he said. "However, I hope they realize that we were not responsible for the Hot-Ten-Tots leaving the field. The umpires handled the situation correctly. The game had to be forfeited."

Local softball sustained a staggering blow when the Chicago team walked off the field. And this with the Invitational tournament just one week hence. It will be interesting—vitality so to see how the fans turn out for the league games this week.

The sport was just beginning to draw on a par with last season. If the Tots had elected to play ball, Sunday night's crowd would no doubt have been a record one. But they didn't.

Forrest Powell reported by telephone Saturday night that over 3,000 fans watched his "new" stock car races at Quincy. Sonny Gross was the big money winner at the Gem City. The young pilot won the feature, plus a heat and match race. Earl Setser, driving Kenny Vasconcellos' car, pushed Sonny hard in all the races and finished a very close second. Russ Cole of Jacksonville continued to win money, winding up seventh in the feature.

Quotes and quips from the National League press service bureau:

The National League season reached the one-third mark on the schedule this week as the Western clubs headed East for their second swing along the Atlantic seaboard. With all four Western representatives demonstrating an improved brand of play, the West came out on top during the inter-sectional series just completed with 26 wins against 21 losses to indicate competition will be considerably stiffer the rest of the way.

The Eastern clubs had things pretty much their own way during the two previous clashes between the loop's two divisions winning 22 and losing 15 during their first invasion of the West in early May and copping a lopsided 23 of 31 games of a subsequent series in which they entertained the Westerners.

Dodgers Whip Reds Twice

Brooklyn, June 14 — (AP) — Gil Hodges' 11th home run of the season provided the Brooklyn Dodgers with the winning margin as they whipped Cincinnati 4-3 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader tonight after cashing in on the wildness of three Reds hurlers for a 6-2 victory in the opener.

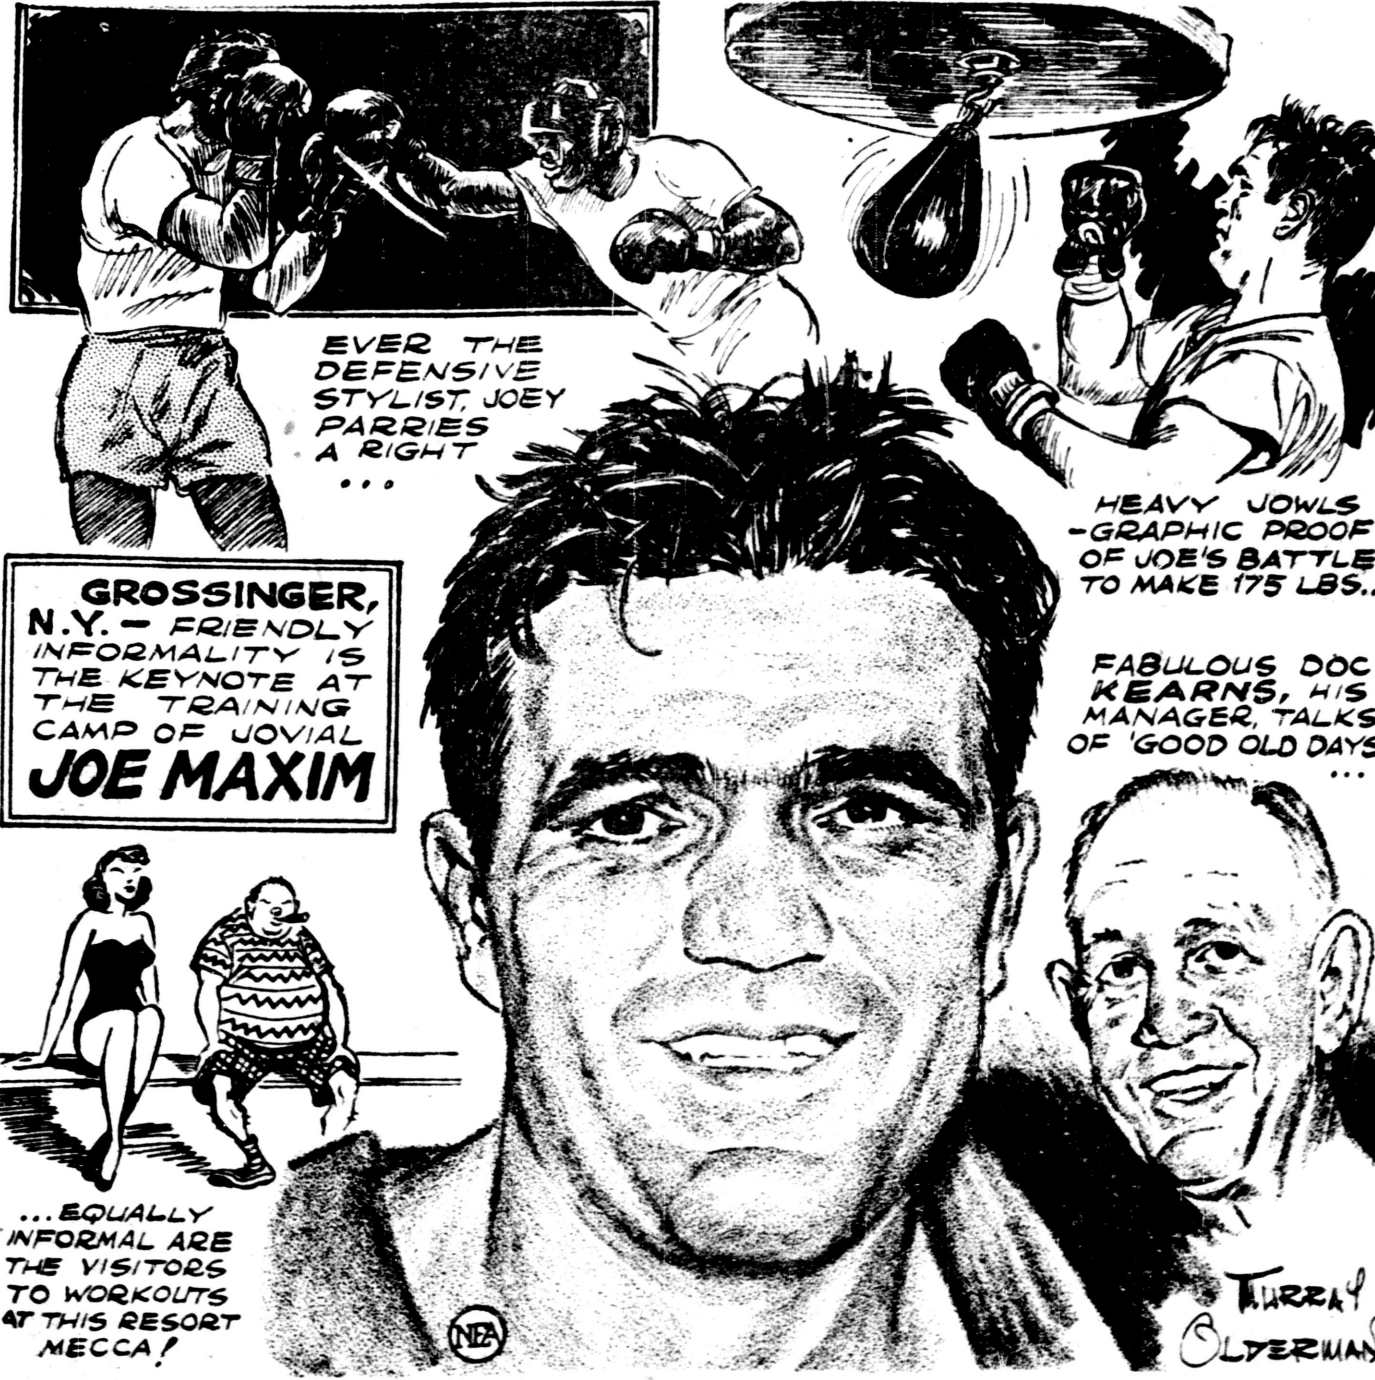

The twin victory boosted the Dodgers' lead over the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs to four games.

Big Chris Van Cuyk, youthful left hander, went the route to win the opener and register his fifth victory for the Brooks. Carl Erskine also made it number five in the night cap but required the services of Joe Black who allowed one hit in the last three and two-thirds innings.

EVER THE DEFENSIVE STYLISH JOEY PARRIES A RIGHT

GROSSINGER, N.Y. - FRIENDLY INFORMALITY IS THE KEYNOTE AT THE TRAINING CAMP OF JOVIAL JOE MAXIM

Takes On Big Ones
"Right from the start, Giuseppe Berardinelli, that's too long for a fighter. Joey Maxim, that's more like it. Why Maxim? I dunno."

Talk drifted around to a rival light-heavyweight.
"He don't like to get hit," commented Joey, in his staccato style, with big-city inflections. "Me, I got the Dago heart. I take on the big boys—the heavyweights."
"I say Charles is the toughest I fought. Walcott didn't give me much trouble. The referee did. Every time I turn around, Walcott's whacking me in the rear. Forty whacks, and the referee don't do a thing."

For all his ring experience, Joey Maxim is comparatively unmarked—no scar tissue around the eyes, no cauliflower ear, just a banana nose to betray his trade. For a fighter, he has surprisingly small, almost feminine hands.

There's nothing dainty, though, about the way he uses them.

Phillies Break Losing Streak, Nip Bucs 4-2

Philadelphia, June 14—(AP)—Russ Meyer and Fireman Jim Konstanty turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 2 on five hits today to end a four game Philadelphia Phillies' losing streak.

Meyer, gaining credit for his third win of the campaign, allowed the Pirates only five hits, one of them a ninth-inning homer by Pete Castiglione that brought Konstanty to the rescue.

Meyer also contributed to the Phillies attack with a second-inning single that scored Catcher Smokey Burgess, who had preceded the Philadelphia hurler with a walk and went to third on Ralph Caballero's single.

Ten American Women Enter British Meet

Troon, Scotland, June 14—(AP)—Ten Americans will compete Monday in the opening round of the British women's golf championship, and there is a strong possibility one of them will be the winner when the finals are played Thursday.

Included in the U. S. contingent are members of the Curtis Cup team, defeated by the British at Muirfield, June 6-7.

Those players, headed by the U. S. champion Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, have tested their game in the strong winds that usually prevail on Scottish seaside courses.

That experience should stand them in good stead here. The prevailing westerly wind off the Firth of Clyde blows across most of the 6,500-yard course, scene of the forthcoming championships.

Twins Have Gland Surgery Same Time

Indianapolis, June 14—(AP)—Twins Reba and Ruby Krummel are so alike they had to have identical thyroid operations at the same time.

The 14-year-old Decatur county sisters were recovering today at Methodist hospital. Doctors said it was very unusual that they should develop the same glandular disturbance at the same time, but they weren't surprised.

They were born 10 minutes apart but have been doing things identically and simultaneously ever since.

The first jet fighter to be equipped with an afterburner obtained a speed increase of 100 miles an hour over earlier models without afterburners.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
MARKET REPORT

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—Hogs, cattle and sheep held nominally steady at the livestock market today.

A sharp drop in shipping demand, which has been a main prop under the hog market for several weeks, backgrounded a decline of 25 to 50 cents in the barrows, gilts and sows this week. Wholesale trade on fresh pork also was lower, some cuts sinking $2.00 to $3.00. Sows were marketed in increased numbers and made up 27 per cent of salable offerings.

Most steers as well as heifers sold mostly steady this week, although in a few instances declines of 25 to 50 cents were recorded. The top at $36.25, paid for one load of prime light steers, was a new low since November, 1950. Other sections of the cattle market declined.

Sheep and lamb receipts expanded substantially at all markets this week. Locally, spring lambs lost 50 cents to $1.00, old crop fed lambs dropped $1.00 to $1.50 while slaughter sheep were marked down $1.00.

Jansen Pitches, Bats Giants To Win Over Birds

New York, June 14—(AP)—Larry Jansen celebrated Father's Day early today as he pitched and batted the New York Giants to a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jansen, not only scattered ten hits effectively, but helped win his sixth game of the year with a timely single in the fourth inning that drove in two runs.

Those two tallies plus home runs by Bob Elliott and West Westrum enabled the Giants to snap the Cards' winning streak at three straight and give right-hander Cloyd Boyer his third loss against two wins. Jansen has lost twice.

White Sox Drop Bosox From Lead With 4-2 Setback

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—Sam Mele's eighth inning single registered two runs and backed a fine relief job by Harry Dorish today to give the Chicago White Sox a 4-2 win over Boston and toppled the Red Sox from first place in the American League race.

Homers by Chicago's Eddie Robinson and Boston's Ted Lepcio had Mel Parnell of the Red Sox and Hector Brown of the White Sox hooked up in a 1-1 mound duel until the seventh when the heat began wilting both starters.

Mele's decisive blow shattered a 2-2 deadlock, scoring Nellie Fox from second and Minnie Minoso from first when Boston centerfielder Dom DiMaggio fumbled the hit.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis,
on a vacation in the Sierras, finds herself involved in a murder. Mrs.
Orrell, wife of a college professor, has been stabbed. Rosemary herself is in danger and then the body of Mrs. Orrell disappears.

VI
Led by Dr. Roberts, we walked around and around the tent in a winding circle while the Doctor played his light upon the earth and brush searching for some clue to this newest mystery.

"What are you looking for?" I whispered to the Doctor.
His lips close to my ear, he said,
"I've known bears to drag a dead steer 15 feet or more. It's not a nice thought, but..."

"Bears could not untie those tent flaps!"
"True," he said. "Too true."
When finally we had found nothing, we began to retrace the wet dirt trail to the lodge.

Professor Orrell sobbed aud-ibly as we walked along. The Doctor said, "Please, Professor, remember this. The murderer returned to your wife for some reason. He could not escape as quickly with her body."

But despite his kindly-meant words, my mind went to the black,
unsounded depths of Gold Lake.
How easy to dispose of what was left of poor Mrs. Orrell. Surely he realized that!

At that moment, Susie with a quick jerk pulled away from me and went back sniffing at the lonely tent.

We followed as fast as the path would permit. We saw her enter the tent and come out and, with muzzle to earth, she trotted again toward the stream.

reason why no one wants her here."

His voice was stern but gentle. I realized how serious he was, yet I felt it was a simple case of mistaken identity that should be easily cleared up, so I pretended a bravado that I did not feel.

"But why should I go when I am not she?"
"Because," he said slowly in a voice little better than a whisper,
"on the ridge just above us somewhere near Gold Lake lies money buried by the emigrants. The old trail followed by the covered wagons traverses this hogback of the range. There are iron-rust stains on the granite boulders to mark the way it takes. The iron tires of the old wagons scraped against those boulders and their stains of rust are clearly visible today.
There are relics to mark the trails.
Too—iron, leather, a wagon wheel or broken axle. My wife—" and he choked on his words and was silent for a moment. "My wife—found a child's shoe there," and here he lowered his voice even more. "But no one, that we know of, has ever found the gold that the emigrants buried."

THE whole affair seemed a horrid dream. Yet as the Professor continued his stranger-than-fiction story, I remembered the reality of the bullet-hole in my fender, of the death of Mrs. Orrell, and the awful fact that her body had been stolen.

"There is a legend," the Professor continued, "that many thousands of dollars in gold are buried near the trail on this property.
Through separate stories handed down to us from our pioneering ancestors, we all claim a part of that treasure and we don't propose to let Elsie Martinson have it. It is obvious that she has leased the land to procure it. The grandmothers and grandfathers of our group at the Lodge rode in the wagon-train that carried that gold. It was supposedly buried in a cache to be claimed later. To our knowledge
it has never been unearthed."

Throughout this long speech Dr.
Roberts had been quiet. "We'd better go," he said at last.

Illinois College Fund For Campus Buildings Now Totals $104,000

The Illinois College Forward Movement reached the total of $104,000 when the first phase of the campaign was completed Saturday.

The campaign will run until Dec. 31, 1953 at which time it is planned to have the entire goal of $165,000. Harold Gibson, director of the campaign, also announced that $64,000 of the amount has already been paid in cash.

Mrs. W. G. Watt Addresses Asbury Home Bureau Unit

Mrs. W. G. Watt, county president, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Asbury Home Bureau unit held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. C. J. Loneragan.

Mrs. George Robinson, vice chairman, conducted the meeting. It was announced that the unit will make a contribution to the Morgan county 4-H camp fund. Plans were discussed for a potluck dinner to be held at the Lake Jacksonville 4-H camp.

The major lesson, "Party Sandwiches," was given by Mrs. Frances King, home adviser. The selected subject, a book review of "Belles on Their Toes," was given by Mrs. Charles J. Williamson.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and assistant hostesses, Mrs. Maurice Walsh, Mrs. Donald English and Mrs. Albert McNeely.

Guests present were Mrs. Frances King, Mrs. W. G. Watt, Mrs. Richard Sayre, Mrs. Rex Ranson, Mrs. Roger Jacques and daughter, Mrs. Alvin Middendorf, Miss Sooy and Miss Williamson.

The officers will be hostesses at the July meeting to be held at the Asbury church.

Gas Line Explodes Near Waverly; Two Taken To Hospital

Two men searching for a leak in a gas line near Waverly were taken to Passavant hospital after an explosion Saturday evening. R. P. Wilbur was released, but Norval Peterson remained for treatment of a fractured left wrist and a dislocated right hip.

Both are Waverly men and employees of the Fielders Drilling company. Peterson was nearest the pipeline when the explosion occurred.

Dr. Thomas Auner examined them. He found that Wilbur, 51, had no apparent injuries. He had been struck on the head by a flying cloud of dirt and was dazed for a time. Peterson's condition was reported to be satisfactory Saturday night. He is 44.

The Neece ambulance brought the men to the hospital at 7 p.m.

Reynolds To Have New Manager, Virden Mortician

The Reynolds Mortuary takes pleasure in announcing that Ralph G. Jones of Virden, Ill., is now the manager and a partner in the funeral home. He will immediately take over the professional duties of the establishment.

Mr. Jones is the son of Dr. R. R. Jones of Winchester.

He has operated the Jones Funeral Home of Virden for the past 12 years, with the exception of two years of service in the Navy.

He plans to bring his wife, son and daughter to this city to make their home in the near future.

"We feel that the Jones family will be a fine addition both to our firm and our community," Mrs. Gertrude Reynolds states, "and we wish to extend to them a cordial welcome."

Conduct Services For George Winter

Services for George W. Winter were held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Williamson Funeral Home with Rev. Alvin Vanderhoof officiating.

Alvin Middendorf, the vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. Millie Kent at the organ.

The flowers were cared for by Mrs. John Virgin, Mrs. William Loneragan, Mrs. Albert Hoagland, Mrs. Don English, Mrs. Ethel Finch and Miss Myrtle Butler.

Palbearers were Ross Sample, John Virgin, John Rea, William Loneragan, Albert Hoagland and William E. Butler.

Interment was in Asbury cemetery.

TO CONFER REBEKAH DEGREE

Development of a new canal permits ships of 4,000 tons to sail from Amsterdam to Basel, Switzerland.

NOTICE
Herman "Ding" Farrar is now located at Ruby & Akers Barber Shop 205 W. State (Savings & Loan Building).

The first $45,250 raise was used to complete the gymnasium. The remaining sum will be used toward the building of a dormitory for 100 men on the college campus.

The $104,000 has been raised among the friends of Illinois College living in Jacksonville and Morgan county, and by the alumni living in all parts of the United States. Gifts came from 554 people in Jacksonville and Morgan county, from 190 living in other parts of Illinois and from 139 living in states outside of Illinois. The reporting of the campaign was given by Gibson to the board of trustees meeting in Tanner Library on Saturday morning.

Winchester Bore Gravel Marks
Although Morris told several persons he believed he was shot at, causing him to lose control of his car, there was no evidence at the inquest that he or his car had been the target of a missile. Examination of the car made by members of the sheriff's force indicated that the windshield had been struck by gravel, making a large fleck on the glass which was not penetrated.

The first witness to testify at the inquest conducted by Coroner B. B. Ridgway at the Williamson Funeral Home was Herman DeGroot, who with his son Harry were first arrivals at the scene. They were traveling the road about 5:30 a.m. when they found Morris, whom they knew.

Herman DeGroot testified Morris told him he heard a noise that sounded like a shot. The witness said Morris told him he had five or six drinks the night of the accident. Additional testimony concerning the condition of the car was given by Harry DeGroot.

Talked With Victim
Deputy Sheriff L. L. Edlen testified that he talked with Morris at the hospital early Wednesday morning. The victim told the deputy that he thought someone shot at him. Edlen and Sheriff Hembrough then visited the scene of the wreck, and later examined the car.

The windshield was pitted by gravel marks, the officer stated. There was no evidence that the car had been struck by any other missile.

Mrs. Evelyn Morris, widow of the decedent, said her husband told her that another car crowded him on the road. She told the jury that he did not mention having been fired at. The wife said her husband was returning from a business trip at the time he was injured.

A statement by Dr. Thomas Auner describing the nature of injuries was read to the jury, which consisted of Frank Kiloran, foreman; Louis F. Vanter, James R. Parker, James E. Fountain, Oscar Meline, and Truman Reynolds. Testimony was taken in shorthand by Mrs. Nancy Schindler, inquest stenographer.

Cash gifts for other capital purposes, besides the new dormitory, including the proposed Rammelkamp Chapel and library endowment, have been over $17,000, making a total of $81,000 in gifts for capital purposes, he reported.

Operating Gifts Total $29,000
Gifts for operating expenses amounted to $29,000. This makes the grand total received in cash gifts by the college since July 1, 1951, of $110,000.

Of special interest, President Hudson said, is the gift of the Olin Foundation, Inc., of Alton and New York City, for two scholarships next year. The purpose of the donors is "to discover and educate potential leaders of high intellectual ability." In order that none may be excluded solely for financial reasons the scholarships carry a stipend sufficient to cover the tuition fee and as much of the cost of subsistence as the students' financial condition requires. Awards are made on the basis of academic record, special examination and participation in activities. The foundation was established by the Olin Industries, Inc., of Alton.

Announce Library Memorials
Among other gifts are three for the library: The Mary Louise Strong Fund for the purchase of books and periodicals concerning modern European languages to which members of her family, and her students, colleagues and friends have contributed; the Elson Barnes Norbury fund for the purchase of contemporary English literature, which members of her family and her friends have donated, and the Orris C. Berry memorial fund for the purchase of books and for the maintenance of the library which Mrs. Myra Berry left by bequest in memory of her son. The library has also received a large number of valuable additions to its resources from many individuals, among them Mrs. James Weir Elliott, Mrs. John Kearns and Robert C. McNamara.

Dr. Hudson paid special tribute to the services of the faculty, and in particular to those who have served 25 years. These are: Mrs. Leonora Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Miller, Dr. Joe Patterson Smith, and Dr. Willis DeRyke. Miss Mary Louise Strong, for whom this would have been the 30th year, died last October.

FIND WOMAN'S BODY NEAR PIKE HIGHWAY

Barry, Ill., June 14 (AP)—The body of Mabel Doran, 68, was found near a highway today. Police said they believed she had been struck by an auto.

Sheriff Ray Lyman of Pike county said he was holding an unnamed man without charge for questioning in the death.

Lyman said the man told him his auto struck something on the road early today and he went back and saw the woman's body.

WADDELL'S

Crushing Chest Injuries Caused Driver's Death

A coroner's jury returned a verdict Saturday night that John Albert Morris, local international truck dealer, died from "pneumonia and hemothorax due to crushing chest injuries with fractured ribs, suffered when he lost control of his automobile on an old road about four miles northeast of Strawn's Crossing."

The accident occurred about 1 a.m. Wednesday, June 11, and Morris remained in the damaged automobile for several hours. He was found early Wednesday morning and was brought by ambulance to Our Saviour's hospital, where death occurred Friday night.

Although Morris told several persons he believed he was shot at, causing him to lose control of his car, there was no evidence at the inquest that he or his car had been the target of a missile. Examination of the car made by members of the sheriff's force indicated that the windshield had been struck by gravel, making a large fleck on the glass which was not penetrated.

Sally Rowe Married To William S. Kanaga

Ceremony Held At College Chapel In Early Evening

Miss Sally Rowe, gowned all in white, was given in marriage Saturday evening by her father to William Smith Kanaga of New York City. The single ring ceremony was performed at six o'clock by Dr. C. P. McClelland at Annie Merner chapel on the campus of MacMurray College.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yates Rowe, 1152 W. State street. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Kanaga of 5615 Tahoe Lane, Kansas City, Kans.

Palms, ferns and lighted candelabra decorated the chapel altar. White altar vases held white gladioli and stock. Baskets of peonies and some red roses carried out the wedding color scheme. Predominant white accented by touches of red.

A trio of violin, piano and cello nylon net, worn over white, with handkerchief skirts, lace strapless bodices and small bolero jackets. Each carried an arm bouquet of Happiness Red roses tied with matching red ribbon.

Best man was Clinton W. Kanaga, Jr., of Kansas City, brother of the bridegroom. Harris Rowe and Richard Rowe, Jr., of Jacksonville, brothers of the bride, were groomsmen. The ushers were Charles Dunn, Clark Churchill, Joe Ben Dickey and George Byers, the latter two of Kansas City, Mo.

The bride's mother was attired in a short gown of toast colored marquisette and lace, with a yellow and brown cymbidium orchid corsage. Light blue lace, ballerina length, was chosen by the bridegroom's mother. She wore a purple orchid corsage. The sisters of the bridegroom wore corsages of white Amazon lilies.

A buffet supper at the home of the bride's parents was held immediately after the ceremony for the two families and close friends.

Mrs. William S. Kanaga provided music. The instrumentalists were Mr. and Mrs. Delwyn Shaw and Hugh Beggs. Harris Rowe, brother of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Clad In White Satin
The bride's gown, fashioned on classically simple lines, was of non-lustrous white satin. A band of pleated nylon net on one side of the fitted bodice, a fold of satin set with flowers of seed pearls on the other, formed a striking deep collar effect. The sleeves, full above the elbow, tapered to points at the wrists.

A winglet of pearl-encrusted satin was at one shoulder. From the other shoulder to the elbow, the sleeve was pearl embroidered.

The long skirt, all of satin, descended into a flowing train.

A Juliet cap circled at the edge with seed pearls held the sheer bridal veil, which framed her shoulders and ended at fingertip length in the back. She carried a streamer cascade arrangement of white orchids surrounded with Stephanotis.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. Y. Rowe, Jr., of this city was her matron of honor. The six bridesmaids were Ann Maudlin of Los Angeles, Calif.; Claire Guthrie of Wilmette, Ill.; Helen Hampton of Salem, Ill.; George Sheer of Dayton, Ohio; Aurel Reynolds of Omaha, Nebr., and Ann Cloud of Jacksonville.

Carry Red Roses
All were gowned alike, in white

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Paul Samuel, Miss Edith Jordan, Mrs. Harrison King, Mrs. Harry Chenoweth, Mrs. Frank Waddell, Mrs. Daniel Cloud, Mrs. Reginald Norris, Mrs. F. Osborne Elliott, Mrs. Cole Y. Rowe, Mrs. Frank Warren, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Clinton Kanaga, Jr., Miss Martha Wagner, Mrs. A. G. Gregory and Mrs. Cleon Bell.

Leave For Europe
The young couple left later for a honeymoon in Europe, where they will visit Paris, Italian cities and other points until October. For the beginning of these travels the bride donned a navy blue silk shantung suit.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Kanaga will reside in New York City. The bride is a graduate of Jacksonville high school and Northwestern University. For the past year she has done graduate work at U.C.L.A.

The bridegroom graduated from the Kansas City high school, the University of Kansas and Babson Institute at Wellesley, Mass. At the university he was a member of Phi Delta Theta school fraternity and two honorary engineering societies, Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau.

Mrs. Edward Moy, President Elect Of CWF, Installed

The Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian church closed the season Wednesday evening with a meeting, an installation and a silver tea.

Mrs. Leslie G. Heuston led devotions, using as her topic, "Usefulness is the Rent We Pay for Room on Earth." Mrs. Heuston presented portions of the life of Helen Keller and the many useful contributions she made to society. Mrs. Mary Lee Botts assisted in devotions by singing "God Is Ever Beside Me." She was accompanied by Mrs. Millie Kent at the piano.

As installing officer, Mrs. Gertrude Funk gave the charges to the newly elected officers for the 1952-53 season. Mrs. Edward Moy, president; Mrs. Robert Ray, first vice president; Miss Opal Kehl, second vice president; Mrs. Russell Vernon, secretary; Miss Fern Haigh, treasurer; and Mrs. E. A. Schoedsack, representative to United Council of Churches. Mrs. Funk presented each new officer with a key and colors of satin ribbon, symbolic of each office.

Reports of leaders and division chairmen were heard. Mrs. LeeRoy Fairchild expressed her thanks and appreciation for the fine cooperation she had received as president and turning over her office to Mrs. Moy, she pledged for the group the same loyalty and support.

Rev. Heuston spoke briefly upon the work of the Women's Fellowship and the fine contribution which it makes toward "the work of the Kingdom."

Following the benediction, there was a silver tea. In charge was Mrs. Charles Nichols, chairman of the division of hospitality. The next meeting will be the second Wednesday in September.

Schemmer-Bateman Wedding In Greene

White Hall—The First Baptist church of this city was the scene Thursday night at 7 o'clock of the wedding of Miss JoAnn Schemmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schemmer of Alton, and James F. Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bateman of this city.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Rev. Ben A. Bohn, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with garden flowers, palms and lighted tapers. Mrs. Bohn played a prelude and the traditional wedding march. Jill Craigiles of Alton, the bride's cousin, was soloist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white satin and net, with white mitts. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil in place. She wore a rhinestone necklace, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Wear Orchid, Pink, Blue
The bride was attended by Mrs. Robert Wyatt as matron of honor and Connie Silvers and Charlotte Isaacs, bridesmaids, all of Alton. They wore evening dresses of satin and net in orchid, pink and blue, with colonial bouquets of matching daisies, and white headpieces.

Beverly Bateman, small sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, wearing a pink frock and carrying a crocheted basket of pink rose petals.

Terry Neal Bateman, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Truman Short was best man and Eugene Smith of Roodhouse and William Goblen of this city were groomsmen. Bob Drake and Don Zeigler of Alton were ushers and lighted the candles.

Mothers' Attire
The bride's mother wore a navy blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother was in brown and white sheer with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors, with the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Goblen, in charge of the serving, assisted by his aunts, Mrs. Reginald Williams and Mrs. Harold Carmean. Mrs. Irene Deahl of Alton, a cousin of the bride, registered the guests and Mrs. Earl Goblen and Mrs. Charles Baird were in charge of the gifts.

The couple have set up house-keeping at their home here in the east part of the city.

Social Agencies Council Prepares To Widen Scope

The Council of Social Agencies has arranged for a meeting of representatives of public and private organizations at the YMCA Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The representatives will discuss the possibility of forming a Community Council in order to provide a more effective means of social and civic planning in Jacksonville.

The need for an organization of this kind has been felt and discussed for a number of years.

Councils of Social Agencies have proved successful in other communities comparable to the size of Jacksonville.

Some of the services that have been provided are a Community Service Directory listing organizations, key officers and brief descriptions of their purposes; radio program allowing various agencies a way of interpreting their work to the public; studies and surveys directed toward particular community problems and needs; studies of the nature and extent of particular services performed by different organizations for the purpose of gaining greater perspective as to their effectiveness.

A council of this nature could be of great service to every organization participating in community welfare and betterment.

Every organization interested or engaged in welfare or civic work is urged to send a representative to the meeting. The success of a council will depend on each organization's response and eventual
